Short Thesis on Evidence

Dear Sel,

Here's to the stage manager who taught me all I know about lights(???). Also to a fellow conspirator without whose direction I would still be a law abiding citizen, House breaker, lock picker, and climber of other insurmountable obstacles (for instance the school house); these put him in the jack of all trades class

Jim Langworthy

P.S. I'm willing to testify in court to any and all of the above-mentioned misdemeanors.

Seldon - have been I hope glad to have you, I hope in class with you, I hope you have all kinds of luck

Foreword

Everyone likes to be a dreamer, now and then,
To rest his head and float into fantasy.
Dreaming, some say, is a bad habit, an escape.
But surely most dreams are wonderful things.

that school
Buy the class I've been looking for
You should remember there past 3 years
The All School Review. Then last year in your car. Dorothy would have driven away if you had have left the keys. You hated us then. Then remember this year. I haven't seen you much, but boy
I've had enough to last me for a while.

You are just terrible to write such things.
My father's

102

Dreaming is a pleasure to everyone,
A mental diversion, a happy moment spent.
Some solve the problems of the age
With scientific dreams, philosophical dreams.

Sometimes you dream with others.
But mostly dreams are kept for self.
Dreams are the elements of tomorrows,
Of todays, of yesterdays . . . realistic or romantic.

Our Annual is a handbook to dreams of the past,
Of the many hours spent devouring highschool.
Dreaming of initiation, speeches, dances, games and grades.
Dreaming every dream. And we hope the dreams are mostly good.

Sweet dreams!

LIFE ADJUSTMENT CURRICULUM

To provide opportunity and to encourage growth in personality, satisfying and socially acceptable patterns of behavior and to develop a sense of values that contribute to individual happiness and the social good are the objectives of this curriculum.

The Life Adjustment series is separate from and supplements the Life Adjustment Curriculum.

Administration

Principal Speaks

Principal Jesse G. Ragsdale says, "Students are rarely praised for the good they do. When someone your age violates the code of good behavior, not only he but all of you pay the penalty. It seems that this ought not to be, but the ways of people make it so. The most important thing about a good character and an interesting personality is the fact that those who have built these values into their lives can absorb misdirected abuse and accusations. All of you who make us feel proud to have been your instructors are proof that the ideals of America are safe with you. Strength from within, kindness, a willingness to help others, the capacity to think and the desire to be right are bulwarks against thoughtless diatribes."

Principal, Deans Dream On and On

Deans Give Views

Miss Gertrude Whipple, dean of girls, says, "Every day is pay-day for my work with the girls in senior high. Seeing them learn to face the difficulties involved in growing up in a complicated world and watching them become good citizens of the community compensates for all the rough sessions we have to go through together. I'm never too busy to brag just a little about our girls."

Mr. Earl L. Collins, dean of boys, says, "The fine quality of moral dignity and academic aspiration found in the Billings Senior highschool reflects the best of traditions found in the American democratic way of life."

"Pupils and staff members who continually try to improve themselves and make their efforts more productive account for the high standing of the Billings Senior highschool."

"When these same pupils and staff members work together to help each other to more significant and excellent achievement, the most ennobling experiences of life are shared."

Trustees Dream of Bigger, Better Schools

Super Sees Growth

Chairman of the school board of trustees is Sterling M. Wood, lawyer of the firm, Wood, Cooke and Moulton.

Grant Boorman, president of Boorman Lumber Co., is chairman of the Teachers committee.

Fred A. Hofmann, connected with O. M. Wold Implement Co., is chairman of the Non-Athletic Advisory committee.

Earl E. Tiffany, owner and manager of Tiffany Insurance Agency, is chairman of the Finance committee.

Paul O. McCormick, secretary and office manager of Pierce Packing Co., is chairman of the Supplies and Textbook committee.

Floyd W. Thompson, a furniture manufacturer's representative, is the newest member of the board of trustees.

Edward Lacklen, the only paid member, is clerk and business manager of the board.

Mr. M. C. Gallagher, as superintendent of Billings School District No. 2, perhaps has the most dreams for a more populous and prosperous school district here in Billings.

Mr. Gallagher has been superintendent since 1937 and has seen the schools of Billings grow and flourish. This growth is due to a great extent to his time and efforts to better the district.

To illustrate the tremendous growth of District No. 2, statistics show that in 1937 the total enrollment was 4560, while the latest record sets the total district enrollment at 7111 students.

Five new school sites were okayed by the school this year. Plans for the schools, including a new junior high, are now on the drawing board.

Our collective hat is off to you, Mr. Gallagher, and we hope your dreams are realized.

Representatives Stress Cooperation

Room Representatives is made up of two students from each second period class, picked by their fellow classmates to represent them in student affairs.

Guided by the steady hand of Principal Jesse G. Ragsdale, representatives meet with members of the administration to discuss items of interest to the student body and to give their own particular opinions and ideas.

This last year they particularly tried to coordinate the activities of the various clubs in school and to get them to cooperate on worthwhile projects.

One big problem that has bothered the school for some years was semester and six-weeks tests. Room Representatives worked out a schedule whereby these tests were staggered out over a period of one week. This lightened the load on many students, enabling them to do better work on the tests.

Secretary Six Years

Mrs. Lynn Brown has now been office secretary for six years. During her stay here, she has been asked every imaginable question, every day.

"I have enjoyed my six years in senior high very much. I enjoy young people and take great interest in their progress," smiled Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Brown is assisted by Miss Lois Norskog, who is in charge of purchase orders.

Reidel, Ward Work Behind the Scenes of School

Reidel Runs Cafeteria 10 Years

Upon coming to BHS in 1942 from Missoula where her late husband taught at the MSU, Mrs. Harriet Reidel has taken an active interest in our school and under her, the cafeteria has become one of the best in the state. Ours is the only cafeteria in Montana schools to have a cafeteria and government subsidy program.

Mrs. Reidel will retire this year. She plans to renew her interests in her stamp collection and hobby of making metal jewelry plus spending more time with her grandchildren.

Ward Keeps School Clean

One of the old standbys in our school is our chief engineer, Mr. W. C. Ward. A resident of Billings since 1914, he has been with the Billings public school system for 25 years. The last 11 of these years have been spent right here in BHS. When asked what he thought of our school, Mr. Ward replied that he thought ours is one of the grandest school systems he knows.

Fire Works for School

Since its organization in 1949-50, Firemans club has silently helped to prevent fire hazards in our school. Some might think that you must want to be a fireman to join this club but that is not so. These boys donate their time and efforts to make the building all of us are in for eight hours a day a safer one.

We should congratulate these fellows who have so much school spirit that they unselfishly help to keep our school the fine one it is.

Success in Future Life Dream of Seniors

A young man dreamed and America was discovered.

Many men dreamed and the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and consequently the United States were brought into being.

Another man had high dreams and the slaves were freed.

With us now is the threat of another world war. A war of ideals it seems. A struggle between our part of the world which believes in democracy and the other part of the world which does not.

We, as seniors, must dream of peace. A state of the world where all men are brothers and all nations work together. However, this state cannot be brought about by mere dreams or hopes. These must be the kindling to start the fire of world-wide peace. It is only by constructive thinking, building and living that these dreams can be turned into reality.

We have twelve years of school behind us, life is in front of us. In school we have learned teamwork, how to give and take. We have learned something of group participation and how to plan together for the good of the school.

But that is only the beginning. We have to take this knowledge, provided by the schools, into the life before us, into college, business and the communities in which we will live. Only then will it be of use to ourselves and our society.

May our dream for a good and a peaceful future be vivid enough to make each of us do his part to gain peace, true democracy and an understanding of and from our fellow men.

Through us, and only us, will the dreams of our parents be realized. Dreams of a world where men may build together for the common good, brought about by the United Nations or some similar, and more united, world program.

Remember this, we can never go back to correct our own mistakes. Progress is made by going forward and profiting by the mistakes of those who have gone before us. We can also profit by our own mistakes. Don't be afraid of making a mistake, for you won't make one, but many. Just take advantage of your errors and never make the same one twice.

We all have a huge job ahead of us, that of making the world a decent place to live for everyone, regardless of race, color or creed.

So, seniors, look to and plan for the future.

Rawlings Is Class Prexy

These three officers exemplify the seniors' custom of electing honorary leaders worthy of their positions.

Bill has done a fine job all through high-school, representing his class at Boys State and belonging to organizations including Billings Key and Room Representatives. He was also chosen Personality Boy. Susanne, 1952 Personality Girl, has been very active, too. Clubs and music have taken up most of her time. She was Montana's representative to Girls Nation last summer. Ann is another example of school spirit. Traveling to Girls State and National 4-H Congress, she also played in the band and was in the talent bureau.

Celebrations At Christmas

Christmas Carols Were Sung in Halls

Leaders for Class of '53

This year's officers, as usual, have a big and important job to do. The officers are Maury Colberg, president; Vonnie Bowles, vice-president, and Nancy Nielsen, secretary.

These three officers were chosen at the beginning of the school year by the students of their own grade. During the year they have two main duties: sponsoring the junior-senior prom and choosing the class rings.

This year the junior class is very large. The larger the class, the better leadership needed. That is why the juniors nominated and elected these three people as their leaders. These officers have done an excellent job. They lived up to the standards of the officers of past years.

Class of '53 Dreams of Future

Each year, juniors, as upper classmen, hail the coming year. They are no longer persecuted sophomores, but leaders in school activities. They are able to look forward to their class play, and election of class officers and room representatives.

This year's juniors have been outstanding in band work, journalism, athletics and all other school activities. There are several promising young artists among these upper classmen. At the close of this year there will be three new murals on the walls, each one done by talented juniors. There will be two on first floor and one on the second floor. The themes of these paintings are thought out and studied before they are done. They will be there to brighten the halls for future classmen in coming years, a tribute to the artists of the class of '53.

Some important roles in the leading dramatic productions were played by juniors. For example, parts in the operetta, "The Red Mill", and the production, "Double Door."

As upper classmen, juniors made up in part, the Eyas sophomore initiation court. They helped to plan the punishments of offenders who refused to bow to the wishes of their superiors. Of course, while planning these penalties, they kept in mind that they had once had to cower for a whole week under the fear of being sent forward to face charges. Consequently they made it a rough ordeal for the humbled sophomores.

Teachers and deans will long remember the services of the class of '53 working as office dogs, boys and girls alike. The girls, as well as the boys, showed mettle in sports. The boys have distinguished themselves in football, basketball and track. The girls, in helping uphold the sports tradition in BHS, took part in badminton, tennis and volleyball tournaments.

The class of '53 was the hub of continuity for the year of 1951-52. It was there with the seniors last year, it will be there with the sophomores next year, thus furnishing one of the main connections for smoother and better school activity.

Little Theatre Productions Entertain BHS

Mr. Fred Miller talks to Bill Salzwedel, who played Matt Rockwood, and to Selden Beck, who was Jonathan Rockwood, during rehearsal for "January Thaw." This play showed the complications resulting from the clash of the old and the new when two families with different ways of life are forced to share the same house.

Bobbi Ness looks doubtful even though Ronnie Lundquist goes down on his knees to assure her of his devotion, while Ronnie's proud father, Howard Ness, pops out from behind the davenport which concealed him from the couple. This drama took place in the last act of the arena-style play, "She Stoops to Conquer", presented by Thespian and Apprentice.

Able Officers Are Chosen

Chosen by the sophomores to lead their class to fame and fortune, were Bob Dorfler—president; Roger Colberg—vice president; and Barbara Eastlick—secretary. These people are fine students and are popular among their classmates.

As we have often heard, leaders and presidents of tomorrow come from the leaders and officers of schools of today. Perhaps we shall one day hear more about these outstanding students.

However, the election of officers for the respective classes is an honorary position. The students chosen are usually the ones who are most popular with the classes because of their ability to get along with people.

Members of Sophomore Class Join Work of BHS

Timidly, the sophomores creep into our frightening halls. The halls are so long, mysterious, and filled with those terrible juniors and seniors. Who knows what nightmares lurk in the dismal corners for the little sophomores?

That was last fall in September. Those first few days here may have seemed like a horrible nightmare to the little eyases. However, as the days lengthen into months, they slowly learn that these same halls aren't as mysterious as they once thought, and the upperclassmen are not as harsh as they imagined.

Soon there are many activities for the sophomores to enter. There are clubs, teams, casts of plays, and production crews.

This year they joined the clubs, intramural teams, took parts in plays, worked on production crews. There were also sophomores on the literary staff for the Kyote Annual, the first in three years. There were sophomores on other staffs of the Kyote Annual, also. They all did very fine work.

Sophomores in all the classes show great promise. All athletics were participated in by sophomores who proved to be excellent athletes. Band and chorus had several members from the youngest class. Sophomores also took part in the musical productions of the chorus.

Perhaps the seniors will be missed by the lower classes and perhaps they won't, especially since there will be juniors to take up the vacancies left by their departure from BHS.

As the young eaglets look back upon their past year, perhaps they remember the nightmare of the first few days or perhaps they recall the dreams of the plays, musical dramas, the mellow music of the Blue Notes at the Preelection dance and other dances, or perhaps they hear the rousing, rollicking music of the Pep band at games. At any rate, they will always have something to remember. As they turn the pages of their Kyote Annual they see all the wonderful things that happened to them and they decide that maybe the terrible things weren't so dreadful after all.

Eyas week, instituted two or three years ago, is being carried on into the future and will help to stop all harmful razing in the future. It is good, clean fun for all the school and everyone enjoys it.

As the future years pass by we shall hear more about the members of the class of '54. Enthusiastic students shall make enthusiastic citizens for the US and the world. Maybe we shall someday find peace through the work of the students of today. In all schools of today we learn racial tolerance because we have exchange students and teachers from other countries and creeds. What is learned in the schools of today will be long remembered and will shape the destinies of the peoples of all nations. Students of yesterday dreamed of the UN and NATO and all other world organizations. Let the students of today carry out the dreams of the students of yesterday.

Sadie Hawkins is Fun for Students

Janet Orvis, Shirley North and Nancy Nielsen dispense with some musical entertainment in between acts of the Sadie Hawkins assembly. This showed what happens in Dogpatch on Sadie Hawkins day as the males flee for freedom and the gals pursue matrimony. Everyone dressed in typical Dogpatch garments—mostly rags.

Shirley Frenk, Bev Pollard and Shirley Baumgartner gang up on the poor, unwary male as they try to catch their men for their Sadie Hawkins dates. As all of you know, all boys caught by females during the Sadie Hawkins Open Season are forced to marry the gals—or here in senior high, they must at least take the gals to the Sadie Hawkins dance.

No, this eager typing student isn't sending out a Morse code distress call. He's just keeping up with the rest of his class. Students take timed tests and typing "exercises" (every time they make a mistake they start over), all for what? To become typing champ of the week. With four typing teachers and two classrooms, we'll never have a shortage of typists in BHS.

Add 'Em Up Quick, Kids!

Hurry, Angie, with that adding machine. Let some other students have a chance. Adding machines and brain work can get you a good grade in bookkeeping class. Clockwise, Gene Shaw, Angie Magilke, Joyce Peterson and Paul Torrence check and recheck their figures to make sure no errors sneak in. You don't have to plan on being a bookkeeper to qualify for this course—it will come in very handy when you make out your income tax.

Commercial Subjects Boast Variety

Something Interesting?

It looks like these biology students have temporarily forgotten the thick red workbook while they are examining tiny objects with the aid of microscopes. Left to right, Connie Ramirez, Larry Timberman, Darlene Glantz and Wallace Doeling must enjoy this class, because it looks like they are working very hard. Although this is mainly a sophomore class, a few upper classmen are found in Mr. William Aukerman's specimen-filled room.

Accidents Will Happen!

Could it be that Sally Lamey spilled her test-tube of chemicals? Must have been a powerful mixture, because Sally isn't wasting any time wiping it off her lab apron, or maybe it's just sticky. This is the class that might discover a new element. Who knows? Or you might discover that we're minus a school sometime after a strenuous day of mixing chemicals. Seriously, though, it's a very interesting class and with Mr. Charles Borberg as the instructor, it's very much in demand.

Safety Belts Locked?

"Everyone ready?" Bobbie Graham asks as she prepares to press on the starter for the daily practice in drivers' training class under the supervision of Mr. Charles Boyd, chief instructor and other good drivers who meet the qualifications to teach others. This is an important class because it teaches the importance of safety to future drivers. It's getting to be a very popular class, too.

A Pack of Paper, Please

Looks like DECA is still as busy as ever. One DECA student is about ready to make change for the article the other sales student is reaching for. In this Room, 104, Mr. Robert Wilson and his crew of willing workers sell school supplies to the ever demanding crowd of students who always seem to run out. Work hard, kids!

Typing, Driving Keep Us Surprised

Even a Geiger Counter!

Behind the walls of Room 300 is a class, not an ordinary class, but physics—the home of the only geiger counter in the building. What? You say you don't know what a geiger counter is? If you would drop into this interesting room sometime, I'm sure that Mr. Fred Kaser or one of the physics students would show you some of the more complicated instruments. I wonder what that instrument could be that Warren Black, Dean Simmons and Rick Vognild seem so curious about?

Skeleton in the Closet!

Students Use Charcoal

Kenny Peterson, Virginia Kielhack and Faith Union are pictured here in the art class which is supervised by Mr. Earl C. Bailey. In art class the future artists learn commercial art, oil painting, charcoal drawing and many other forms of useful as well as ornamental art. There are two main class divisions, commercial art and fine art, in the art classes. The poster in the background is one of the many forms of commercial art. The art students turn out most of the posters that one sees around the school.

Student Actors On Set

"Yet who would have thought the old man to have had so much blood in him." Lines from plays of all sorts may be heard in the dramatics class. This class is supervised by Mr. Fred K. Miller. Shown here trying to bring out the artist in themselves are Colleen Miller, Marcia Woodley, Bob Thompson, Doris Matheny, Lee Combs and Nancy Carlson. We owe a lot of thanks to Mr. Miller who coaches the actors in the school plays. As a whole they really do a fine job. Keep up the good work, kids.

Library Is Busy Place

The library is a busy place, but not noisy, thanks to the supervision of Miss Elza Huffman, school librarian. The books in the shelves are all arranged in rows according to the Dewey Decimal system. Shown here with their noses in books are, left to right, Eileen Brown, DiAnne Stephens and Ann Chesterman. These are all senior girls. The library is kept up to date by the frequent addition of new books. Every student spends considerable time in the library during a school year.

America's Homemakers

Attention, all boys! If you are planning on getting married, it would be a safe bet to pick a gal from Mrs. Barbara Tipton's home ec classes. These girls learn all the essentials of trimming tables, making clothes, cooking and the other things that go with making a home. Plus which foods, when put together, make a healthy family. The girls pictured here are making blackout curtains for movies.

Shop Education Trains Boys for Future Work

Future Cabinet Makers

Before the boys are taught very much what power tools can do for them, they are taught about what tools can do to them if used carelessly. The woodshop is supervised by Mr. Howard Vanover. He helps the boys actually make such things as tables, lamps, bookstands and other useful wooden articles. These boys, by the end of the year in woodshop training, are able to turn out a polished, perfect product from a plain piece of wood. They also learn to care for the shop tools.

Grease Monkey's Haven

Did you ever wonder where all of those cars in back of the school came from? They are cars in need of repair that have been brought by their owners to the "Future Mechanics of America." These boys are taught in their classes to work over all kinds of autos. Shown here in the foreground are Clark Peterson, Gary Brink, Jim Leckie and Bill Malek. The work of these boys is overseen by Mr. Louis Ratzlaff.

Tomorrow's Machinists

Boys in this shop are machinists in the making. They learn how to run and take care of all kinds of shop machinery. They learn to operate drills, lathes, milling machines, and shapers. They also learn to make hammers, punches and cutters. Shown here is one of instructor Thomas A. Purcell's students turning out an item on a metal lathe. Boys interested in this line of work find this course one of the greatest benefits in their highschool courses.

Future Farmers of BHS

What is it? Don't run, it's only a boy from farm shop. He's covered from head to toe with grease. That's how it goes, you just can't learn to fix tractors, mowers, combines or other farm equipment without getting some grease on yourself. The boys in this shop learn how to repair farm machinery of all types. That's why they will be the successful farmers of the future and not the poor man who is always buying new vehicles instead of mending what they already have.

"Praise ye upperclassmen" seems to be the theme song of these three sophomore boys as five joyous upperclassmen do their best toward making initiation effective.

These sophomore girls are two of the nearly 600 sophomores who endured initiation in September. Judy Keil is using an electric buzzer to stimulate lazy initiates.

Eyas member Ed Bergquist warns Larry Barnett not to be too enthusiastic in initiating Frances Johnson during last day of initiation.

Initiation Makes

School Life Confusing

School life, though confusing, is sometimes amusing, and yet disillusion comes creeping up, too.

There are clubs here for joining and dances for going; study halls stewing and teachers all doing;

Tests come all too soon and once a blue moon, a vacation.

Typewriters writing and footballers fighting as cheerleaders cheer for the one who is through.

Bells keep on ringing; the chorus is singing; the band now is playing and teachers are saying:

"Keep up the work and you'll graduate, too."

These are not wild animals, just lowly sophomores who were placed in the cafeteria cage during initiation.

Among the many who enjoyed themselves at the post-initiation Sock Hop were Ted Harris, Jim Rawlings, and their pretty partners.

Cowboy and Artist Entertain Assemblies

Does highschool life seem a delightful dream—or is it a horrible nightmare? Do you float through on a rosy cloud or plod through trying to avoid the scheming teachers who waylay you at every turn? Actually, it's neither one—just a combination of these and the everyday life.

No one terms initiation a nightmare. That goes with the assumption that sophomores are nobodies. But then, what greater pleasure could they have than polishing the shoes of upperclassmen, running errands for them, or praising them loudly? However, even the sophomores might find the opening days a mix-up as they check schedules and meet teachers.

Just when life seems settled, the nightmare begins in earnest—tests !It really doesn't matter if you study or not—when facing those horrid test questions, it is a task to remember your own name. Of course, if you've studied, you might remember something. But as you swallow the lump in your throat, grip your pen in your clammy hands, and open your eyes, you count yourself a prize booby. Oh, well, what's an F or two or four, more or less—just the cutting off of all allowances and (groan) privileges.

No doubt all of you are acquainted with study halls. Of course, few ever study there, except maybe just before six-weeks tests, but it is a quaint name.

Then, after three years, comes graduation. Look back—was high-school a dream, or a nightmare, or fun?

Basketball Holds Interest

Life is just a beautiful rosy dream in which we all float around like merry little sprites. If life were at all like that, it would discourage even the hardiest of souls. After all, even the movies have to have a few crises now and then, just to keep things spiced up. That's the way with school, supposedly. All those terrible pitfalls like surprise quizzes and no dates really do serve to keep you at least half-awake and they aren't quite so bad when you look back at them after a small period of time—say about ten years. Maybe that's why folks say that distance lends enchantment. Now, another thing that keeps life moving at the tempo of a poorly-regulated nightmare are teachers. Remember how they always gang up on us and give all the six-weeks tests on one day. But when they did give them on different days, we couldn't be bothered to study. It would have been unfair! At least, if everything goes wrong and you feel as though even your dog dislikes you, remember—it's just the spice of life.

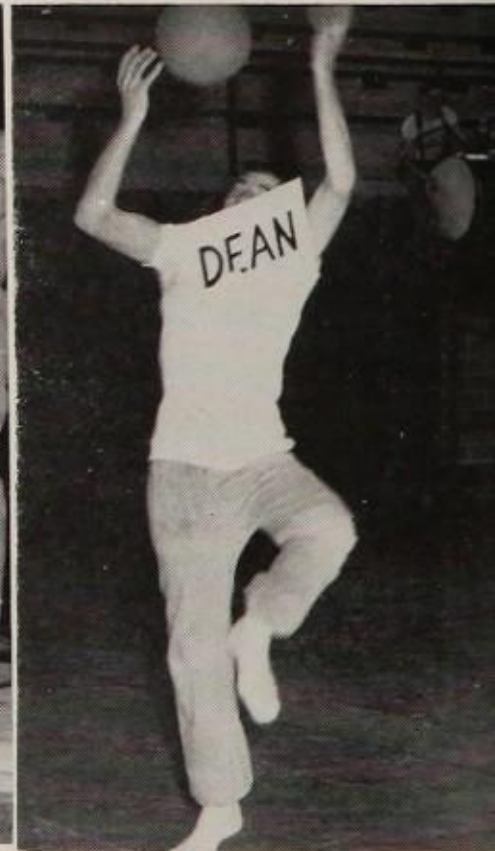

On your right, ladeez an' gentulmen, is one of our more famous twosomes—Jo Thomas and Dean Phelan, as portrayed at the Sadie Hawkins dance. Some of the males seemed to look slightly the worse for wear after unsuccessfully dodging the pursuing gals for so long. How long did Jo chase Dean—or did she?

Ahem! If you dream guys and gals can drag your attention away from each other for a few lines, we will have a little discussion on the follies of expecting the senior high to be just like a rosy dream and full of Princes and Princesses Charming. If bored, you may curl up on a period and go to sleep. The first reason against school being a rosy mist is that it clashes so with all the red shirts and redheads. Pink and red do clash so awfully, y'know. Then, too, mists are so hard on our curls and clothes. All kidding aside, though, school is a pretty nice place in spite of some of the people in it. Of course, there are always little disasters such as unexpected quizzes on the morning of the night upon which you were going to complete all your homework for the past four weeks. But don't let these dismay you unduly. Next time, as a precaution, take up mind-reading so you know when this will happen—or study each lesson. Life isn't so bad, either, if you apply a little common sense at times and don't act like one goon that ended up with three dates for the one night in the year that he was supposed to stay home and meet some company. Most of these kids, though, don't do badly. Life isn't a dream for us, but it isn't a nightmare, either.

This artist won enthusiastic applause after he demonstrated his tricks with pastels and "black" light.

Jean Groves (see picture at your left) was the main character for a style show given during a pep assembly. Jean had the part of a lass at a fancy summer resort where she was determined to catch her man. As she received calls for her different dates, models appeared wearing the clothes she thought she would wear.

It was only a few short months ago—time has gone by as though this were a dream—it can't happen yet! Ah, but it can and it does! Remember some of the minor episodes in school life that occurred during this dream? Minor things like that wonderful dance or that test that you didn't study for and passed with flying colors, or the time your Dream Pal spoke to you after you'd given up all hope? Remember, too, some of the more bitter things that happened? The date you didn't get—the time your best friend betrayed you—the time when your date left you for someone else and you vowed that you couldn't hold up your head again? (And now you've found a much nicer one.) Mix up your memories, spice them with old friends, sprinkle liberally with reminiscences of teachers and you have—senior high.

Life is a dream and dates are a dream and tests are nightmares and school is a fantasy and you sound as though your dreams were influenced by your midnight snack, but oh! isn't school wonderful (sometimes) when you remember it. Of course, only the best things are remembered. The bad or embarrassing moments are forgotten or stowed away where they'll never be found. Remember the fun in gym and how you used to dislike some of the exercises. Wasn't English swell—except for all the lessons and homework that you got! But school life, anyway, was pretty nice on the whole and the mishaps just added color.

Pep assemblies are fun for all with the skits, the talks, and the cheers and songs, which are ably accompanied by the Pep band. DiAnne Stephens (picture at right), one of our cheerleaders, has her back to the camera during "The Conga" at one of our pep assemblies.

What is school life, anyhow? You read about it, you talk about it, you hear about it—but what is it? Is it a definition or a way of living—or what? It is all the little things that you remember about school—the things that stay with you. Things like the chalk smell in the classrooms, the way the sunshine moved across the wall of one certain classroom, the assemblies, the feeling you always got when you sing "Beer" or cheer for your old team to win. It's the feeling you used to get just before the English test, the hollow sort of feeling when someone won something which you had wanted very much, the jubilant I'm-on-top-of-the-world feeling you used to get when everything went your way. It came from the memories of all the friends you had, the discussions you had about little things, certain dates that you will remember (you think) forever. Part of it is in the friendly hubbub of the cafeteria at noon and the quiet of the library, the frowns of some teachers and the smiles of others, the penciled illustrations in some of the books, pencil marks on your hands. School life is the clubs, both big and little. It is working on committees, reading the Kyote, painting, finding props for plays. Writing themes, the talks you had to give in front of class, the nervous feeling you had at times, the prickly feeling you had in the back of your neck when you walked into class unprepared, the passing of notes in study halls, the times when you thought that you had outsmarted a teacher. The good times, the bad times, the dull times—all of them have their place in your memories, and that is what you call your school life.

Actors, Musician

Bill Chapple, Best Actor, started his acting career here at senior high in the sophomore class one-act play. He will always be remembered as Tommy, the hilarious Englishman, in the play, "The Hasty Heart." This was Bill's big part in his junior year.

This last year, he had the male lead in "January Thaw" and was also seen in "Double Door", the last major play of the year.

A Thespian member, Bill's other activities were many. He was president of Junior Optimists and National Honor society, besides being a member of the debate team and going to Boys State.

Bobbi Ness, Best Actress, was first seen in "I Remember Mama", playing the part of Katrin, a big role for a sophomore, and very capably handled.

As a junior, she appeared in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and helped with the production of "The Hasty Heart." She was last seen in "Double Door" as Victoria, another fine performance.

Bobbi was president of Thespian and a member of National Honor society, Pep and AK. As a room representative, she was chairman of the series of radio programs presented by the students to the adults of the community.

Gene Logan, Musician, has played in the school band for three years. He also played in the pep band, the Supperclub band and Five Squares his junior year and the Blue Notes his senior year. Besides his pet instrument, the tenor sax, he is also adept on the clarinet.

Gene's other chief activity was Key clubbing. A member of Yellowstone Key, he was elected governor of the state.

Who's Who Gains Sta Slavens Lone Repeater

Who's Who, a regular feature of the Kyote Annual, has become a school tradition.

One of the senior's most fond dreams is to get his or her picture on this particular page.

This year, nine seniors made it. They are Bobbi Ness, best actress; Bill Chapple, best actor; Gene Logan, best musician; Jo Thomas, Miss Broncette; Duke McDermott, best all-around athlete; Susanne Slavens, girl with most

Athlete, Broncette

Athlete Duke McDermott showed up well in his three years at senior high as a back in football, guard in basketball and sprint-man in track. Duke was given an honorable mention on the all-state team for his favorite sport, football.

Jo Thomas, Miss Broncette of 1952, was chosen by a vote of the entire school for her school spirit and support of the Bronc teams. Other finalists were Bonnie Baker, Phyllis Blank, Virginia Reese and DiAnne Stephens. Jo was first-semester president of Pep club and a member of AK. She was crowned by Dorothy Brush, last year's Miss Broncette.

personality; Gordon Collier, most versatile, and Karen McCormick, best journalist.

Congratulations to those who are pictured here and to all the other seniors who had all the desired qualities, but didn't quite make it. It is these people, by providing the stiffest of competition, who make the Who's Who page what it is.

Journalist, DAR

Karen McCormick, Journalist, as editor of the Kyote paper had the huge job of seeing that all went well so all the students would get their papers on time. Many people will remember Karen as "Smoky", writer of the School life column, one of the most popular columns in the paper. She was also active in other phases of school life. Secretary of National Honor society, and membership in Kinetic and Quill and Scroll, to mention a few. In her junior year, she was vice president of her class.

DAR Winner Susanne Slavens was chosen by the senior girls on the basis of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. Margaret Trowbridge and Jo Thomas tied for second place. By coincidence, this year's winner and Betty McClure, last year's winner, were both delegates to Girls Nation in Washington, D.C.

Personality, Versatility

Bill Rawlings, Personality Boy, has been an active participant in all school activities throughout this three-year stay at senior high. A Boys Stater, Room Representative and committeeman for Eyas day, Bill also has found time for Billings Key club, Fireman's club and Ski club, of which he was treasurer. Bill has long been known for his cheery smile and friendly manner that he always has turned on when he is around other people.

Susanne Slavens, Personality Girl, is a senior with a big smile for everyone. Another big reward for her sparkling personality was her election as vice president of the class of 1952. Susanne was a delegate to Girls State last summer and was picked to represent Montana at Girls Nation, held at Washington, D.C. While at senior high, she has taken a large interest in music and musical activities. A member of girls chorus and the orchestra her sophomore year, she went into mixed chorus and the double quintet in her last two years and finally became student director of the mixed chorus her senior year. Susanne also held membership in Room Representatives, Toastmasters, National Honor and Kinetic club.

Versatile Gordon Collier has shown his versatility in many ways. He was president of Billings Key club, a member of National Honor society and the Eyas day committee. He was a delegate to Boys State and was basketball manager his last two years at senior high. Gordie can be proud of the fact that he was the announcer on the school's first radio program this year as part of an attempt to bring to the public the students' views.

Each year a new group of journalists enter Room 215 and prepare for an eventful year. After the first few weeks of reviewing, tests and working together, the staff heads are elected and practice writing begins.

Actual work on the production of the paper begins when ad folders are passed out to each student in the class. A few helpful hints are given and they're off to sell advertising space in the Kyote paper to the businessmen of Billings. Stories of failure come with success and soon the quota is reached.

Work on circulation then begins. Announcements, posters and the public address skits are planned and the big day comes when the drive breaks into full swing. Each year a new staff has new hopes of surpassing the previous high sales record. Each year the sales do rise to set a new high.

When the first two projects are complete and the first four stories have been turned in, the press starts rolling and proud journalism students see their hard work in black and white.

There's more connected with journalism than writing stories. Each journalism student strives to get four special stories in to the editor each issue. On story days, four copy readers go over each story looking for errors in spelling, punctuation, sentence structure and style. Each story then goes to Mr. Harsch for approval.

Wednesday before the paper comes out, class time is spent proofreading the galleys and the paper dummy is layed out. Remaining class time is taken up with tests, ad selling, book reports and general business meetings.

Students who work hard enough and strive to become outstanding high school journalists are eligible for admittance into the International Honor society for highschool journalists, Quill and Scroll.

In previous years, the Kyote paper has won national honors from Quill and Scroll and Scholastic Press association and state honors from MIEA.

Mr. Harsch states, "Each year the journalism class tries to carry on a tradition set by previous classes of writing, reporting and making up an accurate chronicle and of winning honors. We strive to give the best in reporting to the subscribers and by working together we achieve this high standard."

Journalism now has a new meaning. It's more than writing a story. To the journalism student the school and his community are his beat. He tries to serve them with his best.

Kyote Annual

People Who Roll Up Their Sleeves

For four successive years our BHS Kyote Annual has received a first class honor rating from the National Scholastic Press association. This honor was won by cooperation and coordination of all members of the staffs, into whose hands the preparation of the Annual was given.

This year, 1952, is our fifty-first year as a Billings educational institution. Last spring the editors were appointed by Mr. Henry Harsch and work on this book began. Layouts were made and ideas were put together to perfect a theme. The art work was started and plans for taking club and underclassmen's pictures were made before the end of school.

September was a busy month. The main staffs were organized and the staff photographers were hard at work keeping up with student activities. Editors were making plans, checking supplies and preparing cardboards that would later be used in mounting.

As the months rolled on, Room 215 grew busier, a clatter of typewriters and a continual buzz could be heard three nights a week.

The advertising staff set to work early, hoping to set a new record in Kyote advertising. Later, ads were assigned to the journalism class. At times, things looked very discouraging to the ad managers; but with coaching their workers and urging them on, and their own hard work they made their goal.

Copy was assigned and the race was on for the literary staff. Club write-ups were covered and all of the pictures were identified. New stories sprang up and the crew had a full time job.

Adviser Harsch Keeps Press Rolling

Class rosters were completed soon after the beginning of school. Individual pictures were taken, staffs set to work identifying, mounting and choosing the best pose for the yearbook. Index cards were made out and filed in alphabetical order.

"Where there's a will, there's a way" and the circulation staff found that will. The campaign was on and this year's staff had a high goal to attain after an all-time high sales record of 1200 annuals set last year.

Our adviser, Mr. Harsch, has contributed more than good supervision in the production of the Annual each year. He has encouraged the will to work together to reach a central goal, which each year is set just a little higher than the previous one.

Often the staff members slack in their work, but he's always there with a helping hand. He offers inspiration to his workers and when needed gives a few sharp but penetrating words to keep the wheels of the press rolling.

It's not only the students who excel in sports, cheerleaders and active club members who back the school and promote school spirit, but all of the students who create and preserve the memories of BHS.

Majorettes and Cheerleaders Work Together

Majorettes, Cheerleaders

To the majorettes, creating new shows, putting together new and old ideas and presenting top entertainment for the spectators, is a great art.

Many hours of practice dancing, limbering up and drilling are given before each half-time. Before the big show, every minute of practice counts. Without the convenience of having the gymnasium every morning, night and early morning practices were more frequent for the girls.

The main highlight of the football field was a group of fast-stepping rabbits who danced to the tune of "Here Comes Peter Cottontail." Eighteen well dressed bunnies were pulled out of a top hat formed by the band with the "Old Black Magic" of six graceful magicians.

On the basketball floor, a snappy military drill team of twenty girls went through an intricate march routine. The girls, in perfect coordination, then danced to the tune of "March of the Wooden Soldiers" while four baton twirlers performed. For the first time in several years the majorettes gave an exhibition of double baton twirling.

Vonnie Bowles, Betty Severtson, Dorothy Stahl and Dorla Ness planned and taught the girls their dances and designed the costumes.

"Come on kids! Yell!" It's the inspiration from the kids that makes the team want to fight. With pep galore, the cheerleaders led the cheers and went to out-of-town games to help give the teams the backing they needed. During each pre-game assembly, the cheerleaders led the hearty yells inspiring the desire to win.

This year, seven regulars made up the cheer team. Vigorous cheering, friendly smiles, pep and vitality makes our cheer team.

A new song was added to the list of special cheers. "Sound Off for BHS" made a hit with all students and a new arrangement of "Bro-ncs" inspired competition between the girls and boys.

YKC Devotes Servicable Year

Club Continues—This year Yellowstone Key club continued its good work and the members devoted many hours of their time in service for the school. They also serve in the community by doing everything they can do to better it.

Club Meetings—The club meets every Thursday noon from 12:20 to 12:50 o'clock with their adviser, Mr. Ben A. Clift. During these meetings they hear talks, most of them pertaining to vocations. YKC also has a regularly scheduled board meeting one night a week. All the business of the club is carried on at this meeting.

Gave Program—A program was presented by Yellowstone Key club for their sponsor, Yellowstone Kiwanis club. They also gave copies of last year's prize achievement award to their "father club."

Decorating Projects—They got experience at decorating by helping with the decorating of the Christmas formal and the Sadie Hawkins dance.

Money-Making Projects—YKC built up its treasury by running the concession stand at several games and dances. They also sponsored dances after some of the games. They made money another way by giving a paper drive. These projects kept the club members busy and the club treasury full.

Thanksgiving Dance—Yellowstone Key club sponsored something new in this school year. This event was the Thanksgiving semi-formal. The music was supplied by Mr. Stan Richard's band. Few who attended the dance will ever forget it and everyone at BHS hopes the Thanksgiving dance will become an annual event.

Projects of Service—As a service to their school they donated ink to all rooms. This service was appreciated by everyone because there is always someone who needs ink.

Gives Sportsmanship Trophy—Another unusual project is the giving of the sportsmanship trophy which went this year to Jim Peterson who was selected as the boy who showed the best quality of sportsmanship during the football season.

AK Accomplishes a Great Deal

Club Is Seventeen Years Old—Activity club celebrated its seventeenth year of service to BHS. The purpose of the club is to promote good sportsmanship, leadership and all the other traits which make up a school-minded young lady. The club also tries to provide as many good social events throughout the year as possible.

Guided by Able Sponsor—Miss Jeanette Clark, the adviser, has led the girls in their projects each year. Her ability to cope with the many problems that arise in the club and her advice on all issues, has kept the club rolling. Any member will say that her guidance means a great deal to the club.

New Members Welcomed—The first project of the club was a pot-luck supper, given by the old members to welcome the new members. The supper took place at the home of Cynthia and Connie Long. It was very successful and certainly was an enjoyable way to get acquainted with the new members.

"A Northern Fantasy"—This was the theme of the Christmas formal sponsored by AK. Everyone who attended the formal definitely approved of the theme and as usual it was a grand success. It took many hours of work and planning to put on the dance and the members gave many hours of their time to the job. However, the acclaim they won for it being such a good dance more than made up for all of the hard work put into it.

Miss Broncette Dance Given—This year, for the second year in the history of BHS, Activity club again sponsored the Miss Broncette contest and dance. Jo Thomas, an outstanding senior girl, was chosen because of her personality and interest in all the sports events of the school. Other girls who were finalists in the contest are her princesses. Miss Broncette was crowned at the dance given by AK for the contest.

Other Accomplishments—All the members of AK were kept busy during the year. When the club was not putting on a dance, the girls were working hard on an assembly. Looking over all fine activities the Activity club put on the members can be proud of what they have done this year. AK certainly hopes that in the years to come the club will be able to keep up the good work. And the club knows, that as long as there are girls in AK who are willing to work for their school, Activity club will always be active.

FFA Is Leading Youth Organization

Aims—One of the most impressive activities of young people today is Future Farmers of America. Primarily organized to give our young farmers specialized training for a life of successful vocational agriculture, this program also develops a more efficient citizenry. It is a nation-wide organization covering every state of the Union, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. It aims toward development of cooperation, sportsmanship and good citizenship.

Honorary Degrees—The four degrees of active membership, "Green Hand, Chapter Farmer, State Farmer and American Farmer," denote special levels of attainment throughout the nation. It is an organization directed by the boys themselves. FFA offers unusual opportunities to practice democratic methods to be used through a lifetime of participation in citizenship activities.

Recreation, Problems. and the Significance—Organized recreation is also stressed. Music, sports and other types of activities are common among the FFA groups. All financial problems are solved by membership dues and fund raising activities. Another means of special recreation is the FFA basketball team. They play other clubs' teams and intramural basketball. This year they chose an FFA Queen. She was Peggy Malek, a member of the corresponding club, FHA.

Social Events—The main social event of the year is the parent-son banquet. Each member invites his parents to this banquet. They are served by the FHA girls. Following the dinner the parents are ushered to the auditorium where they are treated to a full evening of free entertainment presented by the members. There they see how meetings are conducted by witnessing an actual meeting on stage.

Exchange Students Are Part of National Program—This year the exchange student was sent to Greece. Upon his return he toured the country and spoke to groups of the farming methods used in that country. This phase of the FFA is stressed because it is believed that it will tend to promote better understanding between the people of the nations.

Emblem's Significance—The significance and meaning of the FFA emblem is recognized in all units as a symbol of wisdom, labor, progress and cooperation. It is the trademark of a promise to America that our new generation will furnish a greater and more powerful class of vocational agriculture.

Science Club Sponsors Show

Purpose and New Motto—To increase the interest and knowledge in those fields of general science not taught as subjects, is the purpose of the Science club, under the able guidance of Mr. William Aukerman. This year a new motto was adopted by the club, Phi Beta Kappa, which means "love of wisdom is the guide to life."

Projects and Activities—Photography was one of the many projects of the Science club. Some of the others were radio and electronics, conservation, and each member presented before the club a personal project he or she had been working on for the year. In connection with conservation, many members attended the meeting at Eastern and reported back to the club. Each year Science club has ordered, publicized and sponsored a movie for the community. This year the picture chosen was "Anna and the King of Siam." Other benefits to the school are the exhibits placed in the first floor showcase and the circulating library of science books, classics, and novels which may be checked out to anyone by a member of the library committee. Two of the numerous field trips were the jaunts taken through the oil fields and factories and the inspection of the sugar beet factory, both places of interest and ones the Billings people should know more about because of their location in this community.

Same Old Science Club—You might think that with all these new interests the "budding young scientist's" mind would be too full of photo flash formulas, neutrons and electrons, and soil capillaries, to hold anything else. Such is hardly the case! Had you sneaked up to third floor and peeked into Room 301 practically any night of the year, you would have seen students busily feeding the guinea pigs and rats, taking pictures of the tropical fish, and listening, enchanted, to the canary sing. Most of these people were Science club members.

Learning the New, Not Forgetting the Old—

These students, having achieved new knowledge and completed new projects, were still caring for the animals, although the monkeys this year were not present. No matter what the students were doing in Science club, they were doing it together, meeting on the ground of common interest.

Apprentice Training Talent

Purpose of Apprentice—The purpose of Apprentice club is to give training and a chance to earn points for entrance into Thespian to all those interested in some phase of dramatics, either acting, staging or some form of production.

Follows Big Sister, Thespian—It seeks to follow in the footsteps of Thespian by presenting plays, mainly within its own group, in competition with each other. In these presentations, Apprentice is shaping its talent and gaining experience. Besides being helpful to young hopefuls (who dream of the heights of National Thespian) Apprentice is lots of fun!

Competitive Plays—Two student directors were chosen who immediately got busy reading and selecting one-act plays. Casts were chosen and work was begun. Following is a humorous selection from one of the plays, "A Man's Castle."

Rose (Beginning to take off his shoes and socks): Now you know you'll feel much better. Put your feet in there, dear.

James: I can't. It's too hot!

Rose: Don't be silly, James. There's no water in it yet.

James (Sheepishly): That feels good, dear.

Little Bessie (Running breathlessly into the room): You didn't give it to him yet, did you?

Works With Thespian—One of the successful partnerships between Thespian and Apprentice was the arena style performance presented by these two clubs "She Stoops to Conquer."

Projects of Apprentice—Besides its affiliation with Thespian and its competitive plays, Apprentice has undertaken the study of voice and expression, and many of the members got quite interested in make-up and costuming. In connection with voice and expression, Hugh Morton came up from Eastern and gave a talk. Another interesting speaker was Bobbi Ness, president of Thespian, who came to give the Apprentice members a demonstration on make-up which was both enjoyable and instructive.

Active Club Members—When the lights come on and the curtain falls you can be sure that behind those curtains Apprentice members will be scurrying around with the props and scenery. You can also be quite sure that somewhere along the line other members had been making posters, selling tickets, and sewing bits of rags into brightly colored costumes.

Pep Sponsors Cheer Leaders

Pep Has Co-Sponsors—Pep, sponsored by Mrs. Edith Galerneau and Miss Catherine Colosky, is the center of school spirit. Besides planning and presenting our school's pep assemblies, it is always represented at the games.

Sponsors Sadie Hawkins Day Dance—The annual Sadie Hawkins day dance is sponsored by Pep. Pep girls serve at school banquets. They also serve as ushers for all school functions such as plays, games, and musical activities.

Their Aim Is Friendship—The aim of the club is to promote friendly feelings between our school and other schools and to show them around when they are visiting here. They stand as an example to others by being enthusiastic in school activities and always being good sports whatever the circumstances.

Chooses Cheerleaders—Pep club chooses, trains and sponsors the cheer leaders. The seven cheerleaders chosen by Pep, their spirit, energy, and enthusiasm, merely represent the enthusiasm of Pep and of the whole school, therefore their roles are important and they are chosen with care. They lead the student body in the singing of "Beer" and the other school songs as well as the many cheers, new and old, which urge on our Broncs to victory!

Verse from Sound Off—The newest song
Our team's the best of all the rest
We know because they've met the test.
Which one? Billings Broncs.
Who says? We do.
Prove it now—Fight, fight, fight, fight, etc.
Let's go!

They pass, they dribble, and they throw
They hit 'em high, they hit 'em low,
Come on—Billings Broncs.
Where to? In the hoop.
Say it now—Rah, rah, rah, rah, etc.
Let's roll!

Junior Toastmasters Brings A 'Magic Wand' To BHS

How It All Began—Last year, Mr. C. A. Anderson and some of the students who attended his classes decided to enter a new club in the annals of BHS history. They began a club for people who loved to talk and named it Junior Toastmasters. They asked the Billings Boothill Toastmasters club to help them plan their constitution and charters. In other words, they asked the older club to "big brother" them.

Purposes—Junior Toastmasters was organized to help students, who really liked speech, to better their methods of speaking before groups.

Accomplishments—Outside of contributing money to Apprentice for sending members of the school to the Interscholastic meet in Missoula, Toastmasters' accomplishments have existed only in the club members themselves. Members of the club have been heard to say several times, "Toastmasters magic wand (better speech methods) has helped me very much in all my subjects and any other time I have been called upon to make a speech."

Predictions for the Future—As long as people continue to talk, there will be a need for such a club as Junior Toastmasters.

Elphadonk Teaches Students To Be Voters, Politicians

Purpose of the Club—Some day in the distant future, American congressmen, lawyers, and housewives will dream of the past and days when they belonged to Elphadonk and learned of politics. Elphadonk was organized for politically-minded people.

Projects—The club claims that it isn't a service club, but it has been doing its country a great service in teaching its members the principles of democracy. Club projects consisted of obtaining outside speakers for their meetings. Some of their speakers discussed the reasons for the political parties in the United States; others told of their experiences in foreign countries. One of the latter speakers was Mr. Eugene Padanyi-Gulyas, who told of the Hungarian government.

Progress of Meetings—Whenever they could not obtain speakers, the members debated upon subjects which were of national importance.

Predictions—Voters of the future will be stronger willed as they graduate from this club. They will pay more attention to the needs of their nation and will go to the polls to vote for the measures which they approve and which they know will help them and America.

National Honor Achievement Gives Students Recognition

Is Honor Club—In this school there are many clubs which give students the chance to earn recognition through service to the school and community, but there is one club which stands above all others. Students look forward to the day when they will receive invitations to the initiation of National Honor society.

Is National Organization—The Honor society belongs to a group of clubs which consists of more than four thousand clubs. These clubs grew from a national convention which drew up a constitution in 1922.

Membership Decided—The upper third of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class are eligible for membership in this club. Recommended by the faculty, the students are then rated by members of the club itself. They are chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character and service to the school.

Honors Given—In colleges there are also honor societies such as this one. The lives of those who belong is sometimes guided by the fact that they once belonged to a club which chose members according to such high standards.

Rougher Hazing Gone, Sophs' Eyas To Remain Permanently

Learning to Fly—In years past, the upper-classmen were given the upper hand in initiating sophomores, with little or no supervision. However, three years ago, a little fellow named "Eyas" started to weakly flap his wings and soon learned to fly with power and strength. Eyas' name means a young eagle unable to prey for itself, but Eyas is now very much able to prey for himself. He has the authority to plan the initiation for the young sophomores who enter this school.

Members of Eyas Chosen—At the end of each year, members of sophomore and junior classes are elected to this committee.

Hazing Projects—By tradition, sophomores are made to wear signs which proclaim them to be sophomores. The members of each new Eyas committee plan their own trials of sophomores every year. Also, by custom, the sophomores are subjected to punishment when they don't obey the rules.

Future Promises—The future looks bright for this organization. It is already a tradition.

Latin Language Is Not Dead, Says Club

Is Latin Dead?—If you asked a Latin club member if the language were really dead, you would get an emphatic "No!" For the member could undoubtedly give you many reasons why the language is not dead and why he elected to study it.

Junior Classical League—This year, as during last, the club became a member of the Junior Classical league. The following is from their creed: "They believe an acquaintance with the civilization of the Greeks and Romans will help them understand and appreciate the world of today which is indebted to ancient civilizations, their government, laws, and arts."

Sponsors Movie—As a project for the school, Latin club sponsored a movie entitled "Last Days of Pompeii" which kept the club members busy selling tickets. A sales talk in Latin, no less!

About the Club—Each class of second-year Latin students has its own officers and conducts its own meeting twice a month. Sponsor and adviser of Latin club is Mrs. Louise Kraft who teaches Latin and English. Latin club is active in many school activities.

French Club Aids In Promoting Good Will

It's French to Me—"Parle vous Francais, Mademoiselle?"

"Oui, je parle Francais et vons, Monsieur." These titles of the text books used in French class are also typical of the conversation one might hear in Room 102.

About the Club—French club is composed of the two French classes and any other students who have studied the language. This active organization of our school is sponsored by the French teacher, Mrs. Mary Larsen.

French Comprehension—Members listen to records to improve their pronunciation and comprehension of the language. They report on current events and articles about French culture, learn interesting customs of the various provinces, and sing French folksongs.

Challenge to School—The French club is the proud holder of the trophy for the assembly contest which they won last year and they are now eager to beat any contender for said trophy.

Annual Activities—The French club gave a Christmas party and a spring picnic for the seniors. Every year French club progresses a little farther in their understanding of the French people, customs and language. This year was no exception.

OD Club Helps Both Faculty and Students

Help Teachers—If you see a girl running down the hall carrying several small pieces of paper, she is very apt to be an OD on her regular round of duty. The members of this club devote a great amount of their time to lightening the load of the teachers and students alike.

Name—the girls were originally named office duty girls but have since then been nicknamed "office dogs."

Jobs—Their jobs are many and varied. They collect attendance slips and deliver messages to faculty and students. They keep track of daily attendances, sort records, and do regular office work.

Entertainment—Besides these chores, they were responsible for the small tree which was in the office during the Christmas season. They had a Christmas party at which they exchanged gifts and a breakfast honoring the seniors in their group.

Aim and Purpose—Purpose of the club is to help the girls with the problems that arise. The aim is to improve and make more efficient the office and the office girls.

Alpha Omega Established By Girls Interested In Nursing

A New Club Organized—Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Sue Hutton, a new club, Alpha Omega, was established this year. This organization is for all girls interested in medical professions. The object of Alpha Omega is to help prospective nurses and other girls choosing their careers from the field of medicine.

Club Meets at Night—Every other Monday night the members gathered to have their business meeting. The club also enjoyed the program given each time.

Interesting Speakers Were Heard—Alpha Omega members learned a great deal from the various speakers they heard throughout the year. The talks were on subjects of interest to anyone planning to enter any medical profession. For instance one talk was given by a young student nurse from the Deaconess hospital. She talked about the ups and downs of a nurse's life. Other talks were about college life at the various colleges in the country.

Future Aims of Club—Alpha Omega hopes, in the future, to be able to interest more girls in their club because they know that being a member of this club helped them to learn much valuable information for their coming careers.

Thespian, Organization for Those Interested in Acting

Dramatics Interested Members—National Thespian is composed of the boys and girls who are outstanding in their work of producing plays and other stage performances. Members are chosen by their contributions to the various plays given throughout the year. Major contributions to qualify members are parts in a play or working on a production crew.

Arena Workshop—One of the projects of Thespian was the arena workshop, which produced the first arena-type play given in Billings high, "She Stoops to Conquer." The production proved to be very successful and was one of the most enjoyable plays given throughout the year. Because of the success of the play it will probably not be the last arena type play given by the Thespians.

Winner in Program Contest—The club was first place winner in the national contest of outstanding programs made by various Thespian clubs. Preparing programs for different plays given each year is one of the club's projects.

Thespians Carry On—In the years to come the Thespians will have to work hard to accomplish as much as was done by the club this year, but as long as there are prospective actors and actresses in BHS there will be a hard working Thespian club.

Aspiring Writers' Organization—This club, founded in 1926, was organized for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding the individual achievement of students interested in journalism in schools throughout the nation.

High Qualifications—To qualify for membership in Quill and Scroll a candidate must have done superior work on the Kyote paper or Kyote Annual. Other qualifications are that he must be in the upper third of his class scholastically. These standings are required to keep high standards in the society.

Approved by Mr. Harsch—Every person wishing to gain membership in Quill and Scroll must be recommended by Mr. Henry Harsch. He must also be approved by the executive secretary of Quill and Scroll.

Duties of Organization—Each year the national organization sponsors national contests in journalistic writing, news stories, columns, feature stories, interviews, sports stories and editorials. The Billings club has had several winners during the last few years. However, just being a member is an honor and all who are realize this and as a result try to live up to the standards of the club.

Prepare Varsity Football Programs—A project of the club is the selling of advertising for the varsity football programs.

Langworthy Selected Senior For Bausch & Lomb Award

Argon Is a Science Club—Any person who has had two or more years of science with at least a B average is qualified for this advanced science club. Argon is fairly small with only one girl in the club, the future Madame Curie.

Mr. Borberg Is Adviser—Sponsor and adviser of Argon Science club is Mr. Charles Borberg, chemistry teacher in BHS.

Projects of Argon Club—Two movies were ordered and shown by Mr. Borberg to both the club members and his chemistry classes as well as to those who were interested enough to go up any sixth period to see them. One was "The DuPont Story", put out by the DuPont Company of America.

The Award Was Presented—Argon made the annual selection of the senior who showed the most interest in science and was thereby most deserving of the Bausch and Lomb award. Jim Langworthy was chosen and the presentation was made.

Trips Made by Argon—Many field trips were taken by the club members. Some were to the Liquid Oxygen company, the beet sugar factory and the Montana Power company.

A Club for Scientists—All you science and math enthusiasts get on the Argon bandwagon if you can qualify and wish to take a crack at winning that coveted Bausch and Lomb award in your senior year.

FHA Teaches Members To Be Outstanding in Homemaking

National Organization—Future Homemakers of America, a nationwide organization, has the purpose of educating interested girls so they will be able to run their homes and their lives smoothly and confidently. The BHS club has succeeded in helping many girls reach these goals. The members of the club proudly realize that much was learned this year that will be of value in later years.

Prepared Baskets—During the holidays, FHA prepared baskets of food and clothing and gave them to needy families throughout Billings. Another project was to collect patterns to send to Greece in order that the girls there might develop their sewing interests.

Heard Speakers—Throughout the year the members heard speakers talk on the subjects pertaining to various departments of homemaking. All the talks were interesting and the girls learned a great deal from them.

Mrs. Barbara Tipton, Sponsor—The members of FHA are very grateful to their sponsor, a new teacher in BHS, because she did a wonderful job of guiding them through a busy year.

Movies Take Place of Books Focus Gives Varied Service

Pictures and Projections—Focus club each year donates over a thousand hours to school service. They show all movies or opaque pictures shown to BHS students. Movies are used in various classes as an aid to study.

Students Use Own Time—Each person who runs the projectors does so on his own time. Teachers inform a club officer when they want a picture shown. He has a record of each operator's schedule from which he finds when they have a vacant period. Slips are then sent to the operators to tell them when, where and which pictures they are to show.

Techniques Learned—The workers not only learn to run slide films and movies, they also learn to splice, repair, and take care of the films. Two boys who are assigned to the machine repair have been expertly taught in the art of movie projectors by their instructor, Mr. F. F. Kaser.

Visual Education Advances Yearly—Visual education has been found to be one of the most pleasant methods of teaching. Tests have shown that students are more impressed by facts gained from a sound movie than from a lecture or book. This promises to be one of the major teaching methods in the near future.

We Can't All Be Experts; But We Can Dream Can't We?

Earning An Emblem—GAA is the only society in BHS which gives the girls a chance to take part in sports. The club has its own individual emblem and pin. Girls may win these only by partaking in a certain number of hours of actual sports such as tennis, skating, basketball or any other kind of active sport. GAA is sponsored by Miss Lillian Cervenka, girls' gym instructor.

Girls Practice to Make Teams—In the earlier part of the year, volleyball and basketball teams were formed.

Playing Other Teams—This spring the volleyball team went to Lewistown. This game was planned for the fall, but the game was postponed.

GAA Sponsors Dance—GAA tries to sponsor one dance each year after a basketball game. Miss L. Cervenka and the officers make the arrangements for this dance. One of the officers, who is completely different from the officers of other clubs, is the point keeper. Girls turn their points in to her at the end of the week and she keeps them until the end of the year when they are added.

The Years Ends—A spring hike was in the back of everyone's mind for weeks, for it was the last meeting of the club. The girls enjoyed it and will remember it along with the other pleasant memories of GAA.

Hi Tri Guides Way To Peace

Hi Tri Works With School—Hi Tri is associated with the school through the work of teachers who teach in our school. The club works right along with the school in producing mature people who will be good citizens for the nation. The goals of the club are: "To grow as a person; to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities, to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

Purpose of the Club—Hi Tri seeks to enrich the lives of its members and to do its share in building a better community. Since it has members in almost every part of the world, the club lives up to its purpose, "To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians," by teaching every young woman in the world the meaning of this creed.

Standards to Belong—Membership is open to every school girl in the 7th through 12th grades who believes in the purpose of the YWCA and will help to promote it in her own living; make her group a friendly and active one; participate in its program; take part in national and international projects in her association.

The Symbol—The symbol of Hi Tri is a globe within a triangle. The triangle represents the members of the club as they grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities. The globe represents the international scope of the YWCA and the need for world fellowship in order that some day the dream of "peace on earth, good will toward men" might be realized.

Accomplishments of Club—The members of Hi Tri supported a new club of the YWCA, Co-ed club, which is an organization of both boys and girls. Every year the club has a senior banquet, hayrides, and other social events.

Predictions for the Club—The club will continue to function well as long as there is a need for the cooperation of boys and girls for peace throughout the world. A club which has a Christian ideal in mind as a foundation, will always be needed in the world.

Junior Optimist Aids School

Second Year of Service—Junior Optimist, a junior club to Optimist International, has completed another year of service to the school and city, under the able sponsorship of Mr. Russell Fitschen. The members of this club are selected from the boys of Billings Hi because of their character and ability. They have proved themselves worthy of the selection by living up to the high ideals of the club.

Meet Weekly—The club meets every Tuesday at noon hour during which time they eat and carry on their official business. They also learn many things of interest to their club by listening to talks given by leading Billings businessmen. Several tours were taken throughout the year to help the members understand more about the community and its needs. All the members will say that they have learned much from these talks and tours.

Service to Community—Many needy families were made happy at Thanksgiving and Christmas by the baskets which they received as a contribution of the members of Optimist. Each boy gave food for the baskets that were then given to the Jaycees to deliver to the families. Club also worked with the recreational department. They helped with the various recreational parties, such as the Children's Halloween party, given throughout the year by the department. They can certainly be proud of the work they have done for the city this year.

Service to School—Perhaps many a burned leg was avoided this year because of the assistance of Junior Optimist. The club had all the heating pipes in the cafeteria covered to prevent the many burns that were caused by people touching the hot pipes.

Sold Popcorn—To help finance the club's treasury, Optimist bought a popcorn popper and put it into use. Every week-end members of Optimist popped popcorn, sacked it and sold it to other clubs so that they in turn could sell it at the games. The club was happy to have this way of making money and did a good job on this project.

Future Optimism—In the future the Junior Optimist club hopes to do as well or better as they were able to do this year. If they have as many outstanding members as there were this year the club is sure to be going strong for many more years. That is what optimism is: looking ahead for the good of all.

Kinetic Builds a Tradition

How It Began—Kinetic began several years ago and now it is one of the oldest and most active clubs in BHS. The club adviser is Miss Gertrude Whipple who has helped the club to gain its recognition.

The Purpose—The club is a service club and has established many traditions for the school. Two years ago, a little fellow named Oswald, backed by the members of Kinetic, raised his head in BHS. Oswald was a little, mythical man who worked for cleanliness in the halls of our highschool. The club members also have sent boxes of food to needy families in the years past. This year they are sponsoring square dancing.

Projects of the Club—Alternating every year with AK, the Kinetic club sponsors a Christmas formal. Club has an open house each year for the members of the organization. This year they went to Karen Jorgenson's house where refreshments were served and entertainment was given.

KLYSD—For a few weeks this year these letters baffled the entire school. When they were at last defined, they stood for "Kinetic Leap Year Square Dance." This was one of the projects of the club and turned out to be one which the whole school enjoyed immensely.

Definition for Kinetic—The dictionary defines Kinetic as "active" which certainly applies to the girls who belong to this club. They are willing and able to carry out projects which mean a great deal to their school and community.

Spring Banquet—Every spring the club has an annual senior banquet at which their senior members are honored. Gifts are given to the seniors and farewell speeches are given by the juniors.

Traditions Are Built—In all the years that the club has been in existence, it has built many fine traditions. The club has built for itself the reputation of being one of the finest clubs to which girls may belong. Everyone in the club is always busy and happy to be busy. It is a club which draws members from the sophomores almost as soon as they step into the entrance of the building.

Active in All Phases of School Life—The members are active in almost everything the school does. They sponsor dances after games in the gym. They give assemblies almost every year.

DECA Is for Employees

Club Proper—The club is a member of the Distributive Education Clubs of America and at each meeting they have a speaker or another form of entertainment for a program. The purpose of the club is to act as an organization for students who work. Working students only can belong to this one club and through this they are able to earn their graduation points. Consequently, the club is very active.

Receives Charter—Last spring, in April, Mr. Robert Wilson and Ted Harris attended the National DECA convention in Tulsa, Okla., and there they received the first Montana Charter.

Upon receiving the charter, their club predecessor, PTC, was dissolved to make way for their new organization.

Presents Assembly—On Dec. 7, DECA members presented a variety assembly. Assembly chairman Mary Alice Riddle stated that Janet Bell gave the narration while Ted Harris and Bob Clark gave a sales skit. As for their entertainment, Vonnie Bowles tap danced, Jerry Peterson played the piano and selections were played by the Blue Notes.

Gives Tree to School—This year, as in past years, DECA presented a Christmas tree to the school. This addition to the school was a club-wide project. Bob Clark and Jerry Graham selected the tree and constructed the stand for it. Club members decorated the tree.

Purchases Camera—At the beginning of the year, a committee consisting of LeAnn Riddle, George Sasich and Bob Clark were busily looking for a good buy in a camera. They located one and now use it for taking pictures for their club scrapbook.

Conventions—All members prepared speeches on a phase of selling and the students contested their speeches, the winners attending the state convention in Bozeman that was held in February. Other persons elected to the convention were President Ted Harris, Vonnie Bowles, Betty Keiser, Clara Bracken, Bob Clark, Walt Paris and Jack Jackson. Alternates to the convention were Shirley Conway, Dorothy Heimbeck, LeAnn Riddle, Jerry Hein, George Sasich and Bruce Anderson.

Other Projects—Along with these major projects, our Distributive Education club sponsored a dance, took charge of the concessions at some of the basketball games, made a generous contribution to the YMCA building fund and has worked many long hours on the Club Promotion Manual to make our DECA club the "first, finest and foremost of Montana DECA clubs."

Billings Key Remains Active

The Club Proper—Billings Key club meets regularly once a week at luncheons and to make things run more smoothly and efficiently in their limited timed meetings, a board of directors meets regularly. Since its establishment as the first club of its kind in Montana in 1945, BKC has been under the sponsorship and assistance of Billings Kiwanis club.

Is Sports Minded—Key clubbers spent many fall hours decorating the goal posts for all home football games. Not to be idle during basketball season, they sold "Billings" pins and "Bronc" pennants at the basketball games.

Sponsors Movie—Last fall, BKC members sponsored a movie at a local theater. Admission to this show was canned foods which were given to the Family Welfare Service for Christmas distribution.

Insures Safety—Along with some of their other helpful projects, members of Billings Key helped to promote the safety of Billings by checking the lights and brakes of more than 65 students' cars. The Montana State Highway patrol supervised the tests.

Conventions—Last summer representatives from BKC attended the International Key club convention in Miami, Fla. Plans are now being made for their delegation to the 1952 convention in Chicago, Ill. Also BKC was represented this spring at the District Key club convention in Deer Lodge.

Helps Parent Club—Key clubbers worked very hard helping the Kiwanis organization make a success of the yearly "apple drive."

Helps Less Fortunate—Billings Key clubbers have indirectly received the gratitude and appreciation of some of the less fortunate children because they packed the toys that were sent to the Orphan home.

Aids Boy Scouts—As a community interest, these boys helped the local boy scouts with their annual circus.

Schoolwide Projects—BKC offered a $10 award for the best suggestion for a project that the club could do to improve the school or community.

Donation—Dean Phelan ordered records for the various departments from the $50 donated by BKC. They aren't trying to buy all the records in one year—but will spread the project out over a few years to come.

Summary—Yes, from all these enumerated activities of Billings Key club, you can see that the club is one of the most active clubs in the school and certainly lives up to their sure-fire by-word, SERVICE!

Great Achievement—'Red Mill'

Three fine performances of that outstanding Victor Herbert operetta, "The Red Mill" were given and well received. Jan. 28 was the date for the matinee with Jan. 29 and 30 reserved for the evening performances. The musical score contained songs familiar to all. In addition to the comedy plot woven around two American playboys touring Europe and a mixed up love affair, the show featured dancing by the leads and a dance team.

When the curtain opened Willem, the inn-keeper, announced that on the following day there would be a wedding between Gretchen and the governor of Zeeland. But Gretchen was in love with a sea captain and tried to run away with him. They were aided by the two Americans who were trying to get out of paying their hotel bills.

Leads included Ron Lundquist as "Con" Kidder and Theron DeJarnett as "Kid" Conner, two Americans touring Europe; Pat Shaffer as Tina, the barmaid; Emery Wetzel as Jan van Borkem, the Dutch burgomaster; Joan Parsons as Bertha, the burgomaster's sister; Adale O'Brien as Gretchen, the burgomaster's daughter; Paul Hartley as Captain Van Damm, in love with Gretchen; Jeff Smith as the Governor of Zeeland, engaged to Gretchen; Don McCann as Franz, the Dutch sheriff; Ted Harris as Willem, keeper of the Red Mill inn; Jill Hageman as the French Countess De La Fere traveling with her sons through Holland; Bert Bigelow as Joshua Pennfeather, an Englishman traveling with his daughters through Holland. The Countess' sons were LeRoy Bender, Chuck Cooper, Gerry Partridge, Bud Skroch, Fred Walter and Jim Warwick and Pennyfeather's daughters were Eunice Frey, Joan Hopper, Joan Knedler, Kathy Lindeman, Shirley North and Marcia Viers.

Form Masque and Choral

Parents interested in the chorus and the production of the "Red Mill" formed the Masque and Choral club. The successfully publicized "Red Mill" showed the usefulness of this organization. The members also donated properties and tuxedos for the presentation.

Choruses Are Popular Classes

This year mixed chorus was the largest it has ever been with 88 members. To counteract this, girls chorus was small with 45 members. Student directors for these two fine choruses were Susanne Slavens for the mixed chorus and Virginia Baker for the girls chorus with Nancy Whittaker assisting her. In girls chorus, Billie Hahn and Bonnie Hofmeister take turns being the chorus accompanist while Karen Jorgenson holds down that same job permanently in mixed chorus.

Ensembles Are Chosen

Two double quintets, the A and B double quintets, were chosen at the beginning of the year. The twelve girls and eight boys that comprise these groups were chosen through a class election and Mr. Cutts' opinion on the students' vocal ability.

Members of the A group include sopranos—Jill Hageman, Pat Shaffer, Susanne Slavens, Nancy Nielsen; altos—Joan Parsons, Julia Padanyi; tenors—Kenny Peterson, Emery Wetzel; basses—Ron Lundquist, Chap Ring. Karen Jorgenson was the accompanist for this group. The B group was comprised of sopranos—Robertta Graham, Joan Knedler, Callie Woodard, Virginia Keilhack; altos—Shirley North, Eunice Frey; tenors—Dick Hedden, Jeff Smith; basses—Charles Cooper, Paul Hartley. Lory Wilson accompanied this group. These groups have performed for about twenty-five different organizations in and around Billings.

Choruses Thrive During Year

Several Projects Are Completed by Band Members Played For Civic Organizations

One of the highly skilled groups of the school is the band, which has put on many concerts and has performed for many games, as well as playing for various local organizations.

The Pep band played during all the half times and it played all the background music for the cheers. One of the most popular cheer songs was "Sound Off", introduced at one of the pep assemblies. There are 40 members in the Pep band.

After playing for the opening of the new Montana Power company plant in October, the band played for the opening of the YMCA in January.

Student director of the band for this year was Ray Moore who did very well.

Members of the band can earn points toward a letter and gold and silver pins. Required for this is 250 points which may be earned from private lessons, concerts, football, and basketball games, practicing, and any number of other things.

The band mothers work together with the band members to raise funds for the various projects which the band carries out. Annually, the band holds a doll raffle on dolls which are dressed by the band mothers. The money earned is used to finance trips to music festivals and to buy new music, equipment, and instruments. Raffles were sold on twin dolls this year and the money raised amounted altogether to $700.

Some of the members of the band belonged to the Civic orchestra which played classical, semi-classical, and modern selections.

Music Department Heads

Mr. Stanley Richards and Mr. Charles Cutts are the two mainstays of our music department.

Mr. Richards assumed directorship of the band in 1946. Since then, he has built it into one of the best highschool bands in the nation.

Someone said, "Music hath charms to sooth the savage beast." True or not, music which comes from the chorus room or concert stage, led by Mr. Cutts, certainly has charms.

Notes Succeed Squares

In BHS Dance Orchestras

Last summer, some of the best musicians in BHS organized a new dance band to take the place of the Five Squares, which was the school dance orchestra last year.

These boys met together at least once a week to practice. Some of the boys practiced as much as 10 hours a week so that they would be able to play the numbers that the students like at dances.

The Blue Notes, as they named themselves, carried on the fine tradition of providing the school with a dance orchestra for all school dances.

Festival at Missoula—Eleven soloists and eight ensemble groups really worked hard for the Montana Music Festival which was held on the campus university in Missoula May 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Soloists were Bill Todd, drums; Ronald Brown, drums; Ray Moore, clarinet; Carol Nelson, clarinet; Barbara Eastlick, Clarinet; Phil Riedesel, trumpet; Howard T. Howard, French horn; Karen Blum, French horn; Paul Hartley, piano and flute; Sharlene Stewart, flute, and Don Beatty, bass.

Participants in ensembles include Todd, Brown, Eddy Palmer, Joe Egan, and Ken Vernon, drum quintet; Moore, Miss Nelson, Miss Eastlick, and Karen McCormick, clarinet quartet; Ann Gorman, Gene Harrison, Gene Logan and Bud Leuthold, clarinet quartet; Randall Gloege, Riedesel, Leroy Lane, and Howard, brass quartet; Howard, Rae Cochrane, Bill Aldrich and Hartley, woodwind trio, and Miss Stewart, Jeanne Hays and Robin Early, flute trio.

Thirteen of these students also applied for places in the all-state band which took place simultaneously.

Kids Worked Hard To Make Trip

Annual Trip Taken by Band—This year the annual band trip was kept a secret right up until the time of the trip. Any person wishing to know about the trip should ask a member of that organization. They had their usual enjoyable time. They had certainly been pinching pennies for it. Rumor had it they were heading for Bozeman. What is it they say about "rumor"?

Pep Band at Game

At every game, you can see and hear the Pep Band. In the fall they play for the football games and create many pictures while they march on the field. In the winter months they play rousing music in order to stir up the enthusiasm of the basketball fans. All in all, the band is a busy organization.

In the picture at the bottom, you see the Pep Band after the Anaconda game. They are led by Mr. Stanley Richards. They played background music for the cheers which were introduced by the cheerleaders.

'January Thaw' Is Produced

The first Little Theater production of the year was "January Thaw." This play, based on the relationship of two families in the same house, was a grand success. Everyone who saw it enjoyed it and will remember it for a long time to come.

Orange and Black End Season in Fourth Place; Chalk Up Four Wins and Five Losses This Year

Broncs finished another year in fourth place, tied with Helena this time. With a record of two wins and three losses for conference play and a four out of nine record for the year, the '51 Bronc team didn't look impressive on paper.

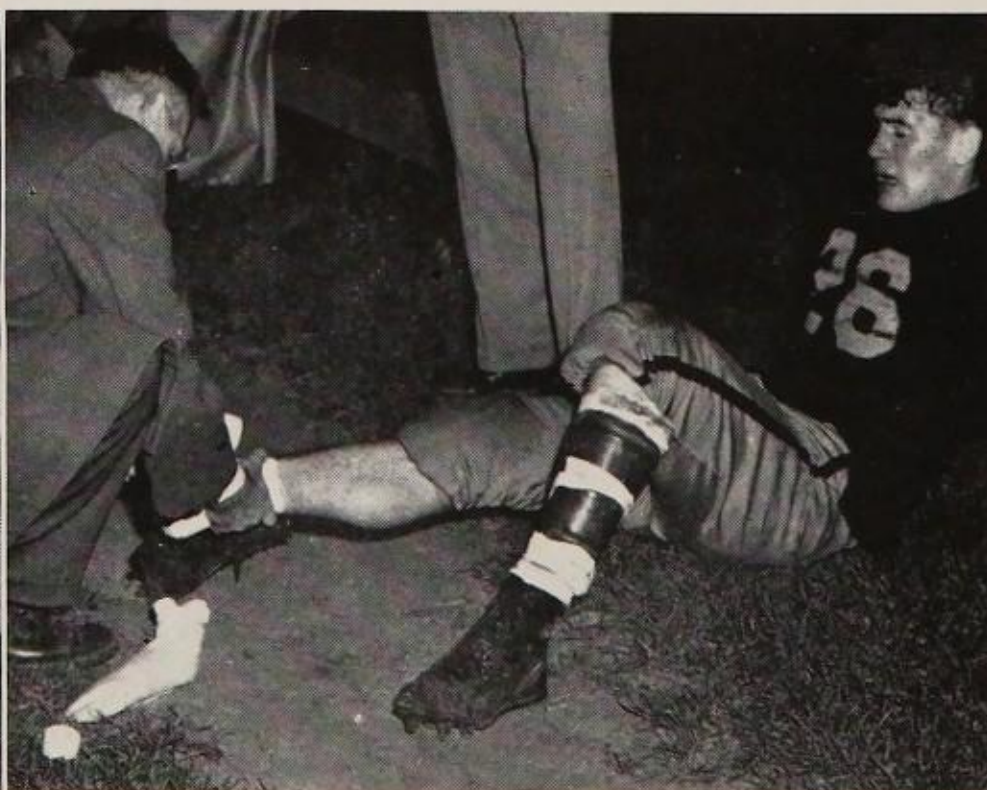

In reality, the Orange team was as good as most of the Big 6 teams. Two early season losses, the Sheridan and Great Falls games, were a result of an extra point jinx picked up somewhere along the line. In road games both Kalispell and Butte outclassed the Sugar city eleven. Our conference wins were at the expense of Missoula and Helena. Of our non-conference tilts, the premier of a new series with Rapid City, S. D., was the roughest.

Seniors on this year's squad were Fred Anderson, Ed Bergquist, Ron Ewing, Sid Griffith, Warren Hodous, Everett Jones, Don Lund, Duke McDermott, Don McKinnon, Bill Myers, Jim Rogers, Dick Sayler, George Schroeder, Calvin Simon, Al Swanson, Clarence Wadsworth, Larry Walks, Tom Warsinske and Dick Wike. McKinnon and Sayler were co-captains.

From the Orange and Black huddle comes a rousing cheer.

East Takes the Shrine Game Classic

Dirk Rolston of Forsyth sparked the East team to a 14-13 victory over the West team in the Shrine East-West game Aug. 25, 1951.

The East moved out in front 7-0 in the first quarter. Neither team scored in the second stanza. At the half the East still led, 7-0.

In the third stanza the West scored a touchdown making the score 7-7. Each team scored another touchdown in this quarter making the score 14-13 with the East leading. The fourth stanza was spent with the East running and the West passing.

The East's coach was Abe Poffenroth. Coaching the West was Ted Shipkey.

Frank Nickel and Gene Badgely, 1950 Bronc gridgers, were listed as probable starters.

Butte and Kalispell Dominate All-State

A 1951 All-State football team, including five Billings Bronc gridgers, was chosen by more than 100 coaches, officials and sports writers.

The Bronc players named were Dick Sayler, first string right guard; Duke McDermott, second team fullback; Bill Meyers, honorable mention quarterback; Jim Rogers, honorable mention tackle, and Ron Ewing, honorable mention fullback.

The powerful class AA first team was dominated by Kalispell and Butte, who have topped the Big 6 circuit for two straight years.

Broncs Defeat Casper in Opener

In this year's opener the home club scored two quick touchdowns in the opening stanza and then buckled down defensively to hold the Casper team to one T.D. in the first half.

A quick touchdown at the start of the second half ended the Bronc scoring for the evening. The Mustangs pushed one more tally across and the placement was good, leaving the score 20 for Billings, 14 for Casper. No more scores were tallied by either club.

Casper was unable to gain through the heavy Bronc forward wall, so they took to the air with quarterback Danny White doing the pitching and end Bob Doll receiving.

For Billings the scoring was done by Ron Ewing, Jack Blehm and Duke McDermott. Bill Myers kicked point after touchdowns, two of which were completed. Billings relied on quick openers and cross-bucks for yardage, but Myers passed three short passes to end Ed Bergquist for short gains when he was in the hole.

Ponies Off to a Slow Start

Broncs Lose in Sheridan

After a slow first half the Broncs roared back to score twice in the third period, only to lose by a missed conversion.

The Sheridan Broncs had the Billings eleven under their thumbs the first half as the Broncs failed to get an offense clicking.

At the start of the second half it was all Billings with the Broncs scoring twice, driving 90 yards for the first and 80 for the second T.D.

Sheridan capitalized on a Billings error to score their only touchdown of the first half. Billings fumbled on their own 25-yard line after receiving a Sheridan punt. Sheridan's score in the second half came when Homer Scott reversed his field to go 46 yards to pay dirt. Don Grace converted.

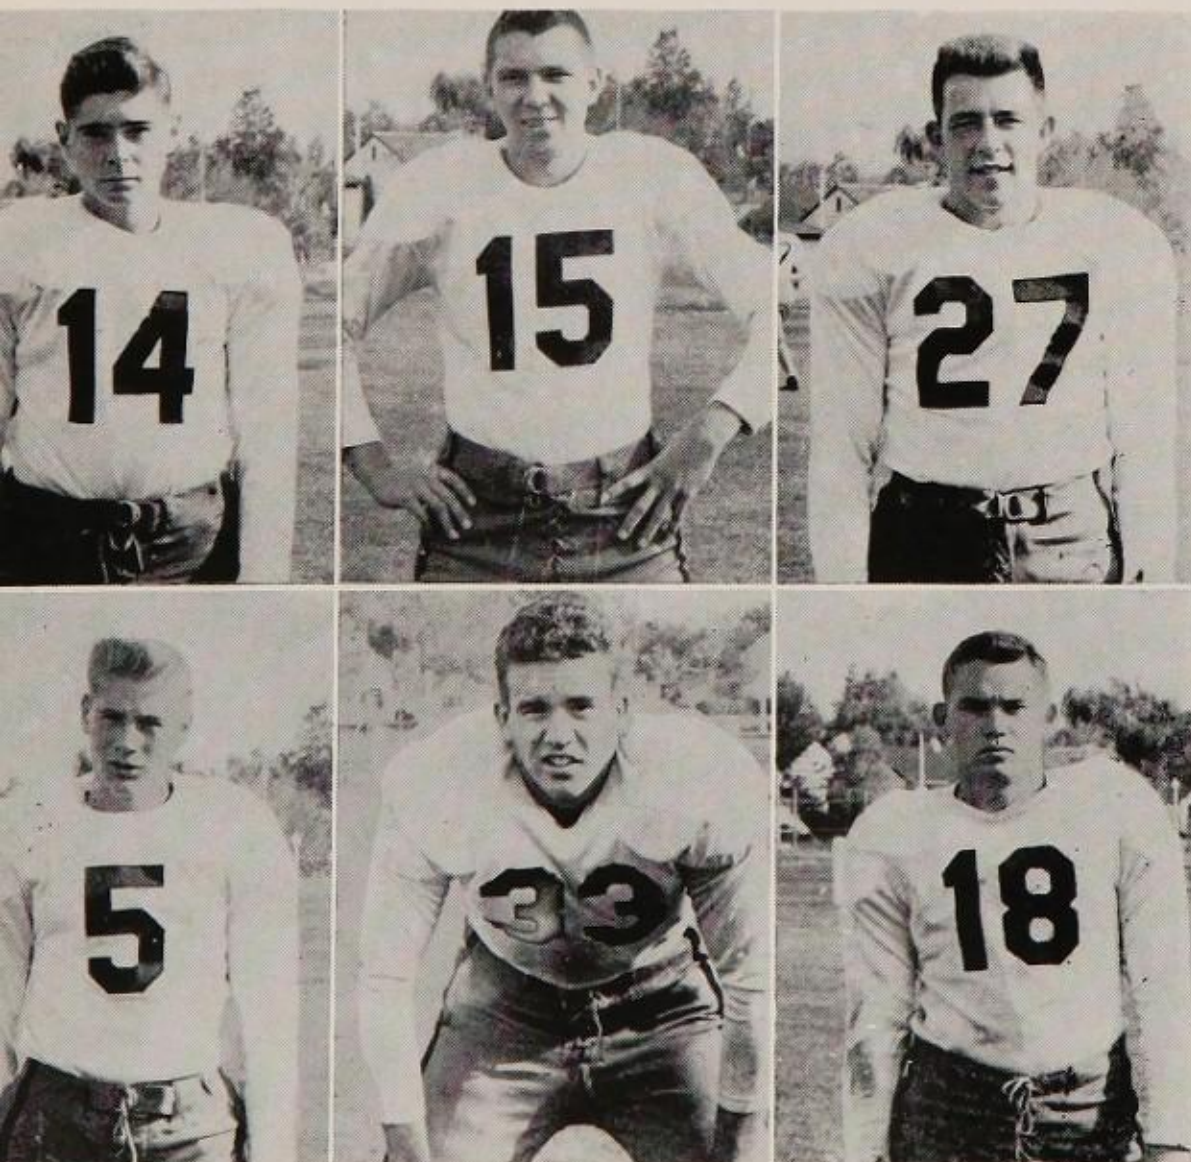

A Billings drive bogged down on the Sheridan 20-yard line and with seconds left, tackle Ron Lundquist attempted a field goal which was short.

Broncs Drop Conference Opener

The Broncs lost their conference opener at Great Falls by the margin of a missed conversion. Great Falls opened the scoring late in the second period when Butch Wardinsky skirted his own left end from the eight-yard line. Jim Roban converted.

Billings failed to score until late in the third period as Ron Ewing punched over guard into pay-dirt. Ewing's drive was the result of a series of plays in which the Broncs ran the Bison ends. Bill Myers missed the conversion boot and the score was Great Falls seven, Billings six.

The Broncs dominated play but fumbles stopped scoring punches. Billings had 12 first downs to 8 for the Bison and also Billings outrushed the Bisons 147 yards to 116 yards.

Orange Team Takes Helena

Heads-up ball by the Broncs enabled them to take their game with Helena, 18-13. All the Orange team scoring was done within the first half with two 15-yard holding penalties and three fumble recoveries to the disadvantage of the Bengals making the necessary difference. Helena opened the scoring with a 75-yard jaunt after a pass interception by Lanning. McDermott tallied the first Orange and Black TD and Ron Ewing counted for the other two. His 36-yard run through the left side of the Bengal line was the most outstanding Bronc run for the night.

Broncs Drop Hawks 26-19

The Broncs grabbed an early lead of two touchdowns to hand the class A Bozeman Hawks a 26-19 loss.

Billings scored twice in the first period, once in the second and once in the third. Gallatin couldn't gain successfully on the ground but made substantial gains in the air. Gene Shaw took a Bronc punt and went 100 yards for the outstanding run of the game.

Duke McDermott scored three touchdowns on wide plays and Ron Ewing scored the fourth from the two as the result of a 55-yard pass from Bill Myers to Ed Bergquist.

Broncs Drub Missoula

After getting off to a slow start, the Broncs piled up two touchdowns during the second quarter and again during the final stanza to defeat the Spartans of Missoula, 27-13, for their second Big 6 conference win this season.

The Orange and Black brought Missoula's ground attack to a standstill and gained 302 yards by rushing while Missoula gained only 40.

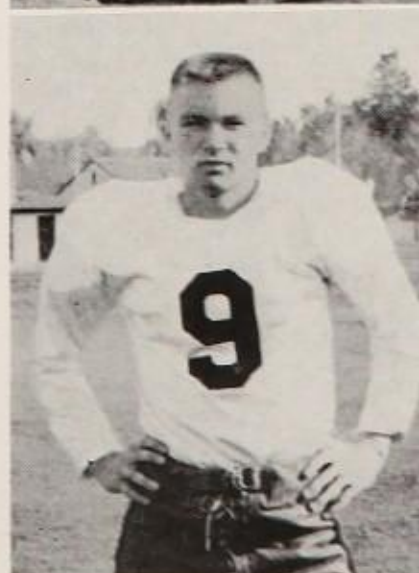

Defensively, the Spartans were a match but their only substantial gains were in the air.

Kalispell Defeats Broncs

The Flathead Braves took over first place in the Big 6 with a 20-0 victory over the stubborn Broncs.

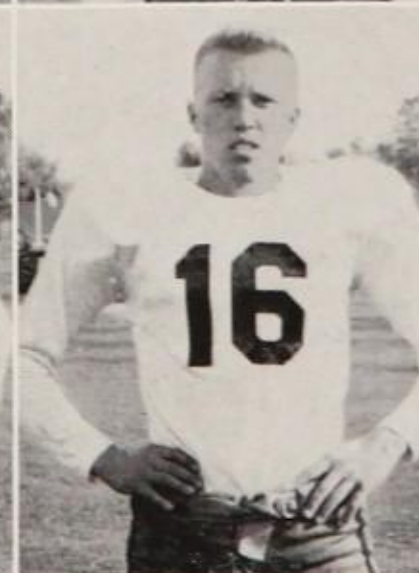

Held to a standstill during the first quarter, the Braves started marching in the second stanza for their first score.

Flathead took the opening kick on their own 30 and drove to the Billings 25 before the Broncs took the ball and started the first of their two touchdown threats. They marched to the Braves' eight before losing the ball on downs. In the second quarter the Broncs got another drive under way which took them to the Kalispell two-yard line before being halted.

Wednesday's Heroes

Have you ever watched a Bronc practice session? If you have you've probably noticed the group of lads scrimmaging the first team.

True, these boys don't star or very often get in Saturday night games, but without these boys' efforts neither could the regulars. Some of the suicide squad doesn't even get to suit up for home games, which proves that they are playing football for the fun they get from it. By coming back night after night to act as opposition to fellows often twice as big as themselves they prove their mettle.

Between the regulars and the defensive practice team (not scrubs) there is a great rivalry. Often the third stringers throw the regulars for a loss, much to the consternation of the coaches.

Some of the practice team members that deserve a lot of credit are Dick Dale, Clarence Wadsworth, Tom Purcell, Fred Anderson, Jim Brush, Al Swanson, Art Choate, Roger Colberg and Larry Barnett.

Everett Jones finally came out on top of the pigskin in this scramble with the Casper eleven.

Rapid City Downs Broncos

The Rapid City Cobblers handed the Broncos a 32-13 defeat in a non-conference tilt. This game stretched Rapid City's winning streak to 16 games. The Cobblers have won 29 of their last 31 games.

The Cobblers gained at least one touchdown in each quarter and stopped the Broncos cold on the ground. As soon as the Broncos discovered Rapid City's pass defense weakness they displayed their greatest aerial attack of the season, gaining almost 120 yards by passing.

Jim Peterson is brought down from behind in the Helena fracas.

Butte Shellacs Broncos

Butte walked into the Thanksgiving championship game by handing the Broncos a 28-0 defeat in Butte before a crowd of six thousand.

Butte rolled up two touchdowns in the first half and added two more in the third quarter. The Bulldogs broke up the Broncos' attack before any serious scoring threats could be generated.

The Broncos' major scoring chances came in the last quarter when the Orange and Black recovered a Butte fumble on the Bulldogs' 34-yard line.

Bronc Managers Prove Versatility

The Bronc managers this year again did their thankless jobs well. As usual, Gary Hill and Don Ross had to put up with the squad members' demands for equipment, tape and attention.

In one game, Hill was called upon to do a little more than previous managers. He appeared in the number 10 jersey against Helena. His position on the squad was earned due to the Orange team's need for an extra-point kicker. In practice Hill managed to place a better percentage over the crossbars than the regulars, so he was given the job. His appearance wasn't too successful, for jumping Max Grimes helped stop the attempts from succeeding.

'52 Bronc Schedule Announced

The Broncs will have four home football contests next fall. Besides the regular Big 6 trips, the Orange team will travel to Rapid City, S.D., for their initial road game and second meeting with the Cobblers.

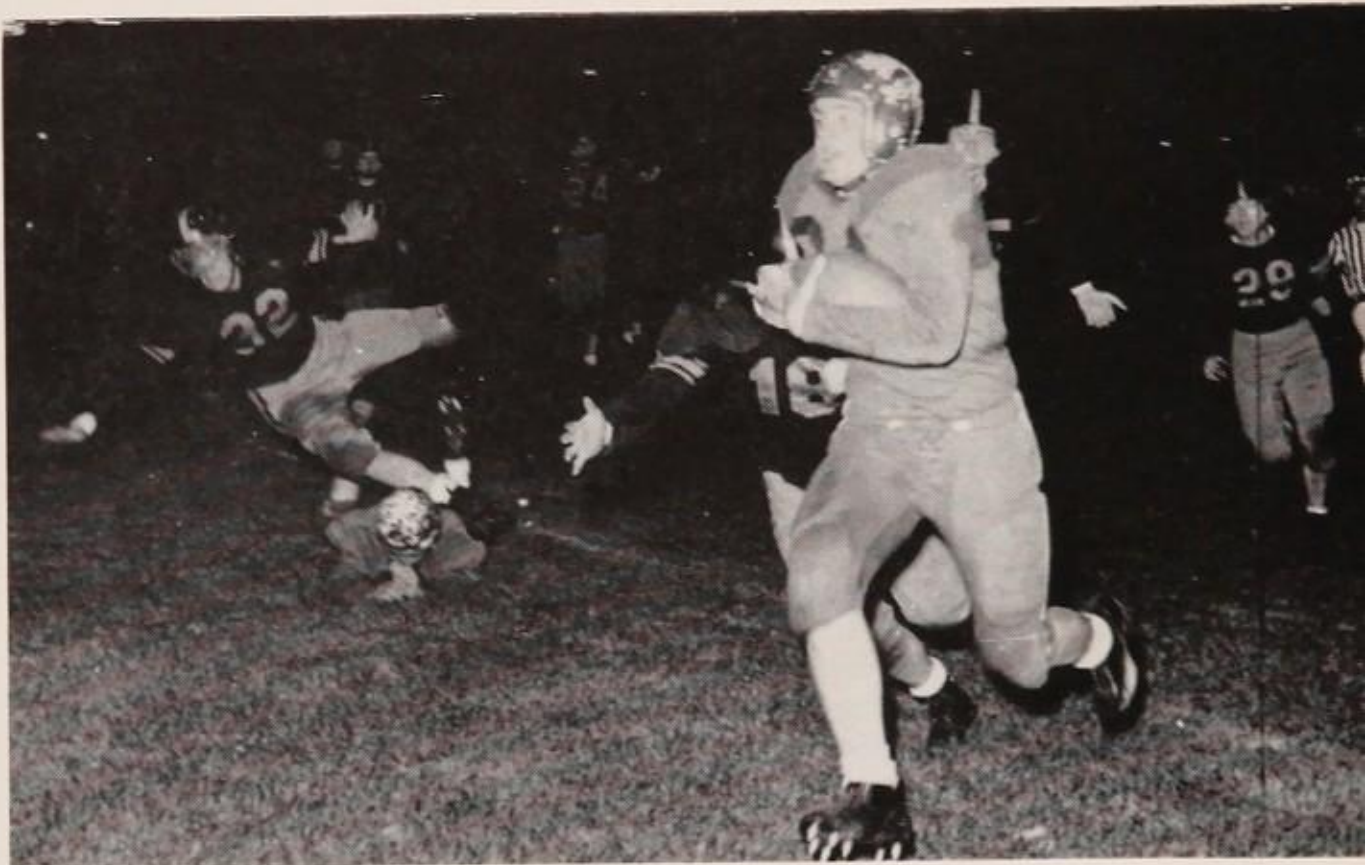

In 1953 the double round-robin between Billings, Great Falls, Butte and Missoula will commence. Each of these four will play the other three twice, along with one game each with Helena and Kalispell. The state championship game will be played between the winners of the regular Big 6 and the Bigger 4. If one team should claim both titles, it and the number two squad will be matched.

The schedule is as follows:

|-------------|-------------|-------|
| Sept. 6     | Casper      | There |

Kalispell Takes Big 6

The Big 6 race was hectic this year with two upsets giving the possibility of a play-off. Kalispell won the conference gon-falon by stopping everyone but Great Falls, who held them to a tie. Butte's only loss was to Kalispell early in the season, and the Bulldogs grew stronger toward the end of the year. Great Falls hung onto third place with three wins, one loss and one tie. Billings ended the season tied with the surprising Helena Bengals who knocked Great Falls out of the running in the upset of the year. Missoula's Spartans were handed a loss by each of the five other teams in the conference.

For their first time, Kalispell was host to the Butte Bulldogs in the Turkey Day game. Two strong teams struggled to a 7-7 tie, with both teams taking advantage of each other's bobbles.

Colts End Year With 3 Wins and 1 Loss

Choate carries the ball for the Bronco third string against the B squad

After getting off to a slow start this year, the Colts made a good showing when they began to get the fundamentals down pat. As in other years, the B squad limelighted some future Broncos of promise. They ended up the season with a record of three wins and one loss. This year, also as before, they had trouble getting games scheduled and played. A home and home series with the Sheridan, Wyo., B squad was postponed due to a polio outbreak there. The second game with the Lewistown Eaglets was called when an early snow blanketed Daylis stadium.

A roughriding bunch of Engineers from Harlowton steamrolled the Baby Broncos in their first venture, 50-0. The Engineers were close to unstoppable as they scored in every quarter. Harlow captain Ed Muneta crossed over for two touchdowns as did left halfback Bob Ortwein. Playing what for most of them was their first game, the Colts were neither successful in stopping the visitor's backfield nor getting the ball past the Harlowton line. A pass interception by Bud Leuthold and a threatening run by Chuck Stratford were the only Colt bids for scoring.

It was a different story when the Baby Broncos journeyed to Bozeman to meet the Gallatin high B squad. The Colts triumphed, 21-12, for their first victory of the season.

A week later the Billings B squad made it two in a row over the Bozeman Hawklets by defeating them, 24-19. Jim Heine crossed over on a play from the seven-yard line after a sustained Colt drive in the first quarter. Loren Peterson scored the second Billings counter on a 67-yard center smash. Don Clason accounted for the last two B squad tallies—one in the third quarter and the other in the last.

The last Colt game and victory was against the Fergus county Eaglets. Baby Broncos took that game, 12-7, on the Lewistown home field. Billings' scoring was done by Dick Underwood and Peterson, who tallied after a 70-yard run by Heine.

To open their season, the Broncs split a two-game series with Lovell. Billings won the first game, 41-26, but lost the second, 35-31.

With the usual first night jitters, Billings and Lovell both displayed poor ball handling and shooting both games. The Broncs led all the way in the first game with Jim Brown high for Billings and Larry Goodrich high for Lovell. Saturday night, Lovell grabbed and held the lead finally notching the win. Maury Colberg was high for Billings with Goodrich high for Lovell.

Big 16 Play Underway

Lewistown handed the Broncs their initial loss in their Big 16 opening game, 47-45.

In a low scoring ball game which saw rough floor play and good free throw accuracy but poor floor shooting, Ron Ewing paced Billings with 7 points and Jim Andrews of Butte hit 13.

After arguing with Miles City coach, Bill Racicot, over who had the better ball club, the Broncs out-classed the Cowboys, 50-38. The going was all but smooth with the Cowboys leading all the first half. It was the Broncs' free throws that won the ball game. Colberg hit for Billings while Pete Muri collected 10 for Miles City.

Broncs Down Sheridan 31-30 and 35-31

Traveling to Sheridan for their first road trip of the season, the Broncs dropped the host club twice in a row, both with close scores.

Friday night the Billings five won the hot contest on a free throw by sophomore Sam McDonald, providing a 31-30 victory for Billings.

Both clubs used a fast break but neither were too effective on shooting or floor play either game. The second game was a rough and rugged ball game which Billings finally won, 35-31.

Brown paced the Broncs with eight points Friday night and 15 points Saturday night. Don Grace hit 10 Friday and Bill Scott hit seven Saturday for Sheridan.

Orange and Black Win Two

On the eastern tour, Billings defeated Sidney, 50-46, and Glendive, 64-18, during the Christmas holiday.

Sidney led most of the way, but Billings, paced by Colberg's 10 points, had too much soup in the clutch. Ray Mischel hit 21 for Sidney.

Using their height advantage, the Broncs swamped Glendive, 64-18. The Broncs shot a high field goal percentage, while Glendive had trouble finding the range. S. McDonald garnered 16 points for Billings, while Dave Ward hit five for Dawson.

Broncs Have 14 Won, 4 Lost Record in Big 10

Billings Squeeze by Sidney, 47-45

After stalling the latter part of the ball game, the Broncs grabbed their fifth league win.

Billings started out with an 18-15 quarter lead, a 28-24 half-time lead and a 42-35 margin at the beginning of the fourth. Both clubs lapsed into periods of poor shooting and ball handling.

Jim Brown hit 16 points for the victors, while Ray Mischel garnered 15 for Sidney.

Playing their best ball of the season, Billings stormed by the Anaconda Copperheads, 59-35, for their sixth consecutive win of the season.

Anaconda at no time threatened the Broncs who used a tight defense and a fast break. Dean Phelan and Jim Peterson were good on the boards, while Maury Colberg led scorers with 15 points. Pat Monno hit nine points for Anaconda.

After leading all the way, the Broncs fell behind in the third quarter, never to lead again in the Great Falls game.

With a two-point lead going into the final second of play, Rick Fransen of Great Falls fouled Ron Ewing who got the second, allowing the Bisons to walk off with the win.

Sam McDonald hit 15 for Billings, while Don Carlson hit 21 for the Bison.

Broncs Upset Lewistown, 59-29

Avenging the early defeat at the hands of the Eagles earlier in the season, Billings led all the way through the game to drop the league leaders.

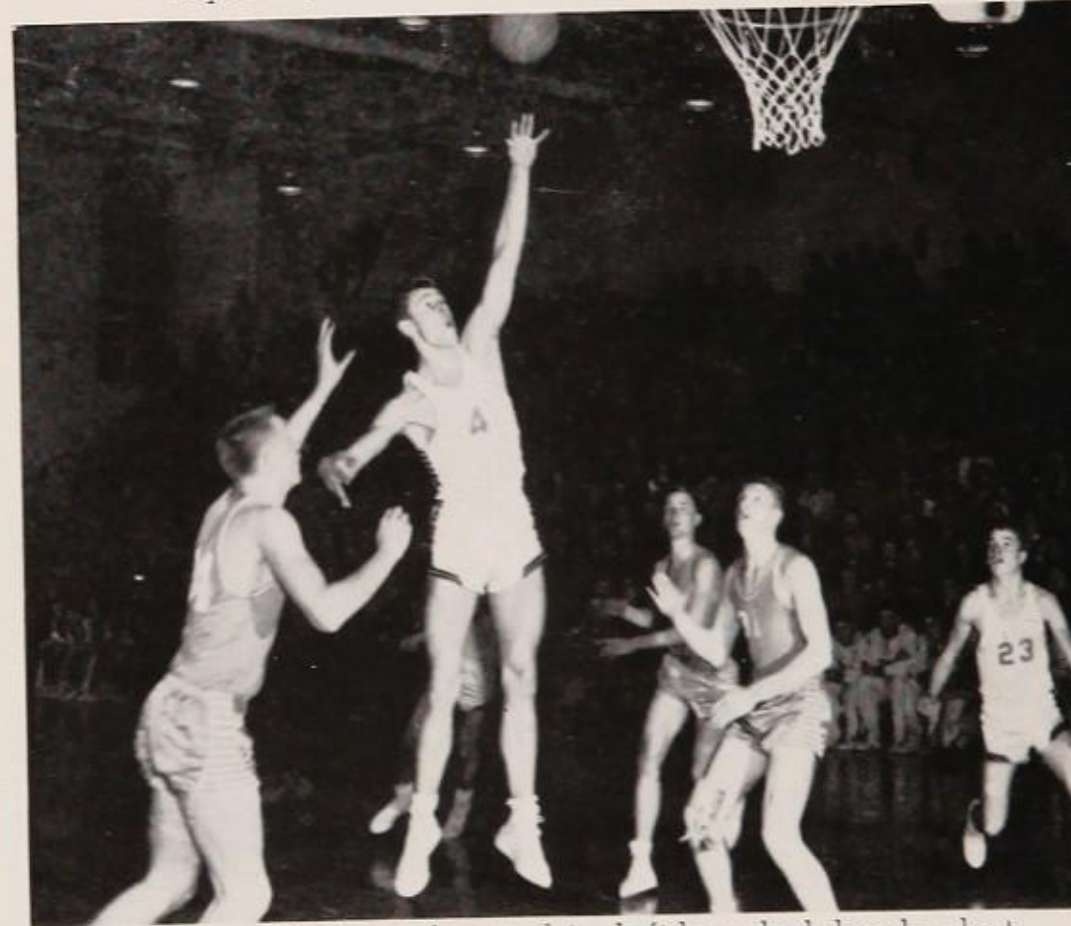

Brown and Phelan each hit 12 points for the winners while Ron Van Hee of the Eagles collected nine markers.

The Great Falls Bison handed the Broncs their third loss of the season. The Bison were hot at the foul line with 24 points.

In a game which featured ragged passing and shooting with Billings getting 26 personals to the Bisons 20. Great Falls grabbed the lead early and hung onto it the rest of the ball game.

Billings Cagers Hit Mid-Season Stride

Livingston, Glendive Fall

The BHS cagers held out over Livingston's Rangers, 49-45, in their first meeting on the Bronc home floor. The Broncs held a lead most of the game but the Park county crew kept close enough to make it a good battle.

In the Saturday night game, the Orange quint took an easy win from the Dawson county five, 62-45. After a tight first frame, the local herd took over completely, with the third-stringers playing the final quarter.

In the Lewistown fracas, Myers tries one from the corner.

Broncs Hit 11 Wins

Bill Salonen led the Purples with 16 tallies to help the Butte five in their win over Billings at the Mining City, 65-45. The Bulldogs held the Orange team from under the basket and Salonen, along with Larry Hale, took control of the backboards. Dave Burton led the Orange and Black with 12 points. The Broncs led Butte in third-quarter scoring, but the eight-point advantage they gave to Butte in the second period was too much to overcome.

At Anaconda the next night, forward Maury Colberg dumped in 15 points to pace the Broncs in a 47-36 victory over the Copperheads. Billings outscored the home crew in every quarter but the third. Anaconda's margin of two in that period didn't threaten the Bronc lead. The win gave the Orange and Black their tenth loop win in fourteen starts.

Win number eleven came at the hands of the Bozeman Hawks as Billings outran them, 64-54. The Sugar city quint moved out for a 21-14 first quarter lead and a 38-39 halftime margin. Again the Broncs were outscored in the third, but Bozeman was still seven points behind. Colberg led the fast-breaking Broncs with 19 points. The local squad turned in fine performance the first half, but Bozeman threatened to knot the score in the third quarter.

Ponies Take Three

The Broncs pulled ahead at the end of a close first quarter and went ahead to beat the Park county squad, 53-39, at Livingston. Jim Brown led the Orange and Black scoring attack with 16 points; 14 of them were collected in the first half. The Orange team poured on the steam in the second period, going ahead, 31-22. From then on out the Orange and Black had their win number 12 in the bag.

Billings stalled successfully in the closing minutes to edge out Bozeman, 51-49, in a real thriller at the Gallatin county gym. The Bronc lead came by virtue of the ten straight points they dumped in in the last 90 seconds of the first half. Bozeman drew up to the two-point margin with two minutes left in the game, but the Billings' ball-control game pulled them through.

In their last home game of the season, the Orange and Black cagers put on their best show, piling up 71 points to take Miles City by 20 markers. The win gave Billings a piece of the second place Big 16 berth along with Butte and Helena. Dean Phelan dumped in 11 points the first half and turned in a topnotch performance on the backboards.

Sportsmanship Award

Dave Burton is this year's recipient of the Bronc basketball sportsmanship award which is presented annually by Yellowstone Key club.

Key club board picked the winner from a list given to them by the coaches. Last year's award winner was Dean Phelan.

This is Burton's first year to letter. Constantly improving as a ballplayer since his sophomore year when he didn't make the B squad, he earned a place on the starting five midway in this season. "Styve" was on the third Bronc team last year.

As a sideline to his hoop aspirations, this 6' 1" lad plays a mean game of tennis. He has picked pharmacy as his line of work when the time comes for him to earn a living.

In 16 games this year Burton collected a total of 112 points up to the time of the state tournament.

Three Broncs Get All-State Ratings

Brown, Colberg on Second Squad

Jim Brown and Maury Colberg both won positions on the 1951-52 all-state class A second team. Brown, a six-foot senior, was picked for the guard position on the dream team. Colberg, also a six-footer, was picked as the utility man. The experts named these boys to the team because they figured they were the boys who paced Billings to its fine record this season. Dean Phelan, Bronc center, was among the high honorable mention winners.

The first quint consisted of Dick Wilson from Kalispell; Bill Salonen from Butte; Mac Grimes, a Helena Bengal; Gary Jystad, another Flathead lad; Jerry Swan from Lewistown, and Vince Kelleher from Helena. Grimes, a second team all-stater last year, was outstanding vote getter. Wilson, a repeating first-stringer from last year, was second choice.

The second team consisted of Tony Carlson and Rick Fransen of Great Falls, Ken Byerly of Lewistown, Pat Monno of Anaconda, Brown and Colberg.

Brown, who impressed the newswriters, sportscasters and fans at the state hoop tourney with his ball-handling and set shots, earned a place on the first tourney squad. Colberg placed on the second squad and Sam McDonald, the Bronc sophomore, received an honorable mention.

Broncs No. 2 in Southern; No. 3 in State

Billings went into the southern class A tournament the top team by virtue of a drawing made necessary by a three-way tie for second place in the Big 16. In the first round, the Broncs pulled a game with Glendive, the last place team, out of the fire to take a 42-35 victory. Jim Brown and Sam McDonald each had 11 points for the Broncs.

In the Friday night game, Billings thumped the Livingston Rangers, 49-41. The Park county crew was on the Orange team's heels until the final quarter when the Broncs picked up an eight-point lead and stalled out the game. Dean Phelan looked good on the backboards while Maury Colberg hit for 14 points to lead the Orange and Black scoring.

The height and power of Butte Public was too much for the Broncs in the title game as the Bulldogs took the southern crown by a 53-50 score. Bill Salonen led his team-mates in the win, garnering 20 points and taking care of the rebounds. Colberg took individual scoring honors with 21 markers.

Billings defeated Lewistown, 57-56, in the state consolation game. It was McDonald who broke up a stall by the Eagles and sank a lay-up to win the game for Billings. Dave Burton hung up 17 points for Billings, while Phelan was good on the boards. Ken Byerly hit 14 for the losers.

Billings thumped Lewistown, 62-50, in the first game of the tournament for the two clubs. Billings led all the way, controlling the backboards and the defensive edge. Colberg with 15 points and Brown with 13 led the Broncs. Ronnie Van Hee with 16 led the Eagles.

Helena outscored Billings, 60-48, to advance to the finals. The Broncs trailed most of the way but pulled up to tie the score and then fall behind again in the third never to threaten again. McDonald racked up 13 points for the Broncs, while Vince Kelleher collected 19 for Helena.

Brown led Billings in defeating Havre, 68-46. Scoring 17 points, Brown paced the Broncs to an easy win over the Havre Plue Ponies for the right to enter the consolation game. Bronc reserves played most of the game with reserve Alan Woodrow hitting six points for Billings.

Colts Win Eleven Contests

The Colts again had a fine year of basketball. The all-sophomore squad finished the year with a record of eleven wins and five losses. One of the highlights of the season were their four victories in four games over the junior high Yearlings, traditional intra-city foes of the Baby Broncs. This year the Little Oranges also picked up double wins from Hardin, the Laurel reserves and Ryegate. They split a two-game series with Bozeman and were handed two losses each by Fromberg and Livingston.

In the Yearling game played at the senior high gym which preceded the Bronc-Glendive fracas, the Colts won out by a 52-39 margin. The first quarter was tight, the Freshmen matching the senior high squad point for point to a 10-8 score. Pulling away in the second frame, the Colts held a 23-17 halftime lead. The Yearlings were held down to 11 points in the two final periods and the B squad went on to win. Diminutive Bill Loveridge led the Baby Bronc scoring attack, garnering 21 points. Wayne Davies was second for the Orange team with 10 while Carl McEvony and John Bohlinger had 12 and 11 for the visitors.

The rubber game of the Yearling series was played on the junior high cagers' home court. The Colts made a clean sweep there, winning, 59-39. Putting up a good scrap, the junior high five kept the score at 14-14 at the end of the opening canto. After the big second quarter when the Little Ponies collected 17 points to the Yearlings' seven, the senior high team was out of danger. Davies this time proved to be the big gun, collecting a total of 19 markers. Loveridge followed with 13, the same number racked up by Bohlinger.

Flying Broncs Start Season

Getting off to a good start, the Flying Broncs took easy wins in their first four interscholastic contests. After the first meet of the season, the inter-class contest, the Ponies won from Laurel, Hardin, Sheridan and Lewistown by wide margins.

The coaching triumvirate also planned entry in the Helena relays, a triangular event with Helena and Great Falls at the Bengal track and the big mix, the Montana Interscholastic at Missoula. Again this year Mr. Roy Morin, Mr. William Lazetich and Mr. Robert Gorton jointly worked with the BHS cindermen.

This year's track co-captains were announced at the first annual Bronc varsity banquet. Leading the '52 Ponies are Jim Rogers and Duke McDermott. Rogers is a three-year cinder letterman, with most of his work being in the field events. Against Lewistown he set a new unofficial shot put record of 50 feet 4 inches. McDermott has shone in the hurdles and sprints. This is also his third year to letter. John Arp was picked by the coaches as track manager.

Intramurals Popular

This year the girls enjoyed a more extensive intramural program than did the boys. Among the sports engaged in by the "weaker sex" were volleyball, basketball, badminton, tennis and softball. A planned volleyball meet with Lewistown had to be postponed. Mildred Shrader, a sophomore, won out over Jeanine Willman for the badminton championship. Also qualifying for the finals from the 40 girls entering was Agnes Schuck.

The boys' intramural program consisted mainly of the annual basketball leagues. Sixteen teams were divided up into Tuesday and Thursday night leagues. The coaches supervised play and the teams chose their own scorers and officials. The Bucket Busters, Tuesday night champs, won out over the Bowling Center, Thursday night titlist, in the intramural pennant contest which was played as a Bronc preliminary. Safety club sponsored an intra-club basketball tourney in which they won out over Billings Key club for the gonfalon.

BHS Cindermen Score Heavily in Early Meets

Suitor, Brush and Rowland starting the 440-yard dash.

Among the earlier Bronc victories were wins over Laurel, Sheridan, Casper and Lewistown. The Bronc cinder squad took decisive victories in all three contests. Laurel fell to the tune of 94-14, Billings had 63 points to Sheridan's 30 $\frac{2}{3}$  and Casper's 25 $\frac{1}{3}$  point total.

In their first inter-city meet of the season, the Orange trackmen showed good form in defeating the Locomotives. Wilbur Straw ran the mile in 4 minutes 46.9 seconds to take the feature spotlight. Larry Barnett won both the high and low hurdles. Jim Rowland led the individual scoring with 16 points by taking firsts in the 100-, 200- and 440-yard dashes and third in the shot-put. Barnett had 15.

The Billings squad was also host to Hardin. Against Sheridan, Jim Rogers set a new unofficial record for the shot-put for Wyoming with a toss of 49 feet 3 inches. Other Bronc firsts were in the discus, high jump, low hurdles, high hurdles, mile run and broad jump.

Piling up the highest score of the young season, the Flying Broncs walloped the Lewistown Eagles, 105-13. The Orange and Black took a first in every event, including the four-man relay. Rowland again collected 16 points to take the laurels. Other point-makers were Ron Lundquist with 11 and Maury Colberg, Rogers and Straw who had 10 each.

BHS Slatmen Have Good Year

More snow than in five years. That was the blessing for the Ski club this year. Starting with Christmas vacation there were perfect skiing conditions up until the middle of April. With approximately forty members, the Ski club has been very active this year. President George Penwell has been in charge of the project of sending a ski bus to Red Lodge each week end. One of the club's featured trips was to the Bozeman run. Among the other activities of the club were helping to fix up the Willow Run hill and organizing a car pool with the Silver Run Ski club for those who lacked transportation to the ski hill. During the winter, members helped instruct youngsters in ski classes which were held at Pioneer park on Saturday afternoons. The ski team consisted of Ivan Savelberg, Sterling Thompson and Penwell. They traveled to the Montana High School Ski championships at Whitefish where they came in fifth out of 11 entries. The prospects for next year are also very good for the Bronc slatmen.

Ad It Up

Memories are all that will remain with the graduates who are stepping forward into a new and different world. Underclassmen will once again proceed from class to class, gradually finding themselves in the graduates' shoes. Some of these graduates will go on to college, while others will vest their interests in the competition of the business world.

This year is our 51st year as a Billings educational establishment. Annual staffs are already busy putting together the 1953 Annual. This yearly tradition needs the backing of every student in order to turn out successfully.

We again want to thank all the business firms and establishments who have also helped out this yearbook. These people are your friends. They are interested enough in you and your school to help support one of our famous traditions.

This is the Kyote's fourth year to win the First Class Honor Rating. The judges on the Critical Service of the National Scholastic Press Association made this award because of the increased circulation and rising quality. Therefore, the Kyote is an excellent place to advertise.

Working with our advertisers has been most enjoyable and we hope our service to you has been commendable.

Class Prophecy

A number of years ago, the Kyote Annual Staff racked their brains and used statements of the senior class of 1952 to make up their prophecy. Now, we look in on their lives to see if those same seniors have realized the plans that they made so long ago.

Jeanette Acord promised herself that she would be a secretary and she made good that pledge. In fact, she's now the private secretary of Warren Black, who is a successful real estate man.

Don Aitchison, Jim Brickley and Bruce Anderson are sailors who have been assigned a special job . . . swabbing the decks of any and all ships in the navy.

Gary Brink, a happy-go-lucky lad in his teens, has at last acquired some ties through a preacher, who spoke the fatal words.

Robert Clark is following in the footsteps of his favorite sleuth, Dick Tracy.

Marlene Clark and Pat Clark were co-workers in the office of a famous model agency in New York until Marlene was given a permanent job in Washington, D. C., as secretary to the Montana Congressmen.

Ann Chesterman changed her name several years ago and is now having a difficult time trying to raise a few little tots named Ann, Anita and Annabella.

The newspapers now carry reports of the daily arguments between Senator Bill Chaple and President Bob Hanson on putting slot machines in all the telephone booths.

Joe Cash and Marion Leuthold have settled down on a well-stocked ranch and are raising themselves a large "cash" account.

Jim Brown is now a famous ball player and is an annual player in the World Series.

Harvey Cale was elected as the Montana representative to Congress.

After trying out the job of coaching, Dave Burton lost his mind and now believes that he is an attractive gambler.

John Burkland spent his younger years in the radio electronic field and is now a famous general in Uncle Sam's Army.

Betty Brum is now teaching geniuses in a rural school.

Frank Bruder put his charms to work for him and became the husband of a wealthy widow.

Virginia Alexander is now the town's number one hostess and gives on the average of eight parties a week.

Bob Allman became a wealthy man by living off his friends and the fat of the land.

The county jailer is Fred Anderson, one of the city's most honorable citizens.

Mary Ann Anderson is teaching in BHS and still argues politics with Mr. Ramsett.

Charlene Avis is now a medical technologist studying the elements that make up the temperament of man.

Planning to stay away from hot rods, Keith Baird was recently discovered helping Jerry Sanderson build a special (hot rod) factory.

The Statue of Liberty now has a new torch . . . Bonnie Baker's hair.

Dorothy Barnes, who tried to be a secretary and Spanish teacher both at once, decided that life was not as dull as she heard it was.

2019 9th Ave. N.
BILLINGS, MONT.

Congratulations
Seniors

Whenever you turn on your radio, you will hear the soft, mellowed voice of Bill Salzwedel announcing your favorite programs on NBC.

Larry Walks has turned to professional football in order to make a living for his family of 10.

Now acting as adviser for Apprentice club is Betty Weber.

Virginia Patton has gained the position as head secretary of the Carter Oil company.

A machine for faster pretzel twisting will soon be developed by Don Paul.

George Penwell spends all his time practicing skiing so he can become an Olympic skier some day.

Special nurses for the football casualties are Shirley Wallace and Kathleen Wolfe.

The only horse trader in lower Siberia is Tom Warsinske.

Ralph Wegner is owner of the biggest two-acre ranch in Jackson, Wyo.

Richard Wegner, hoping to be Billings' next mayor, is campaigning for the elections this fall.

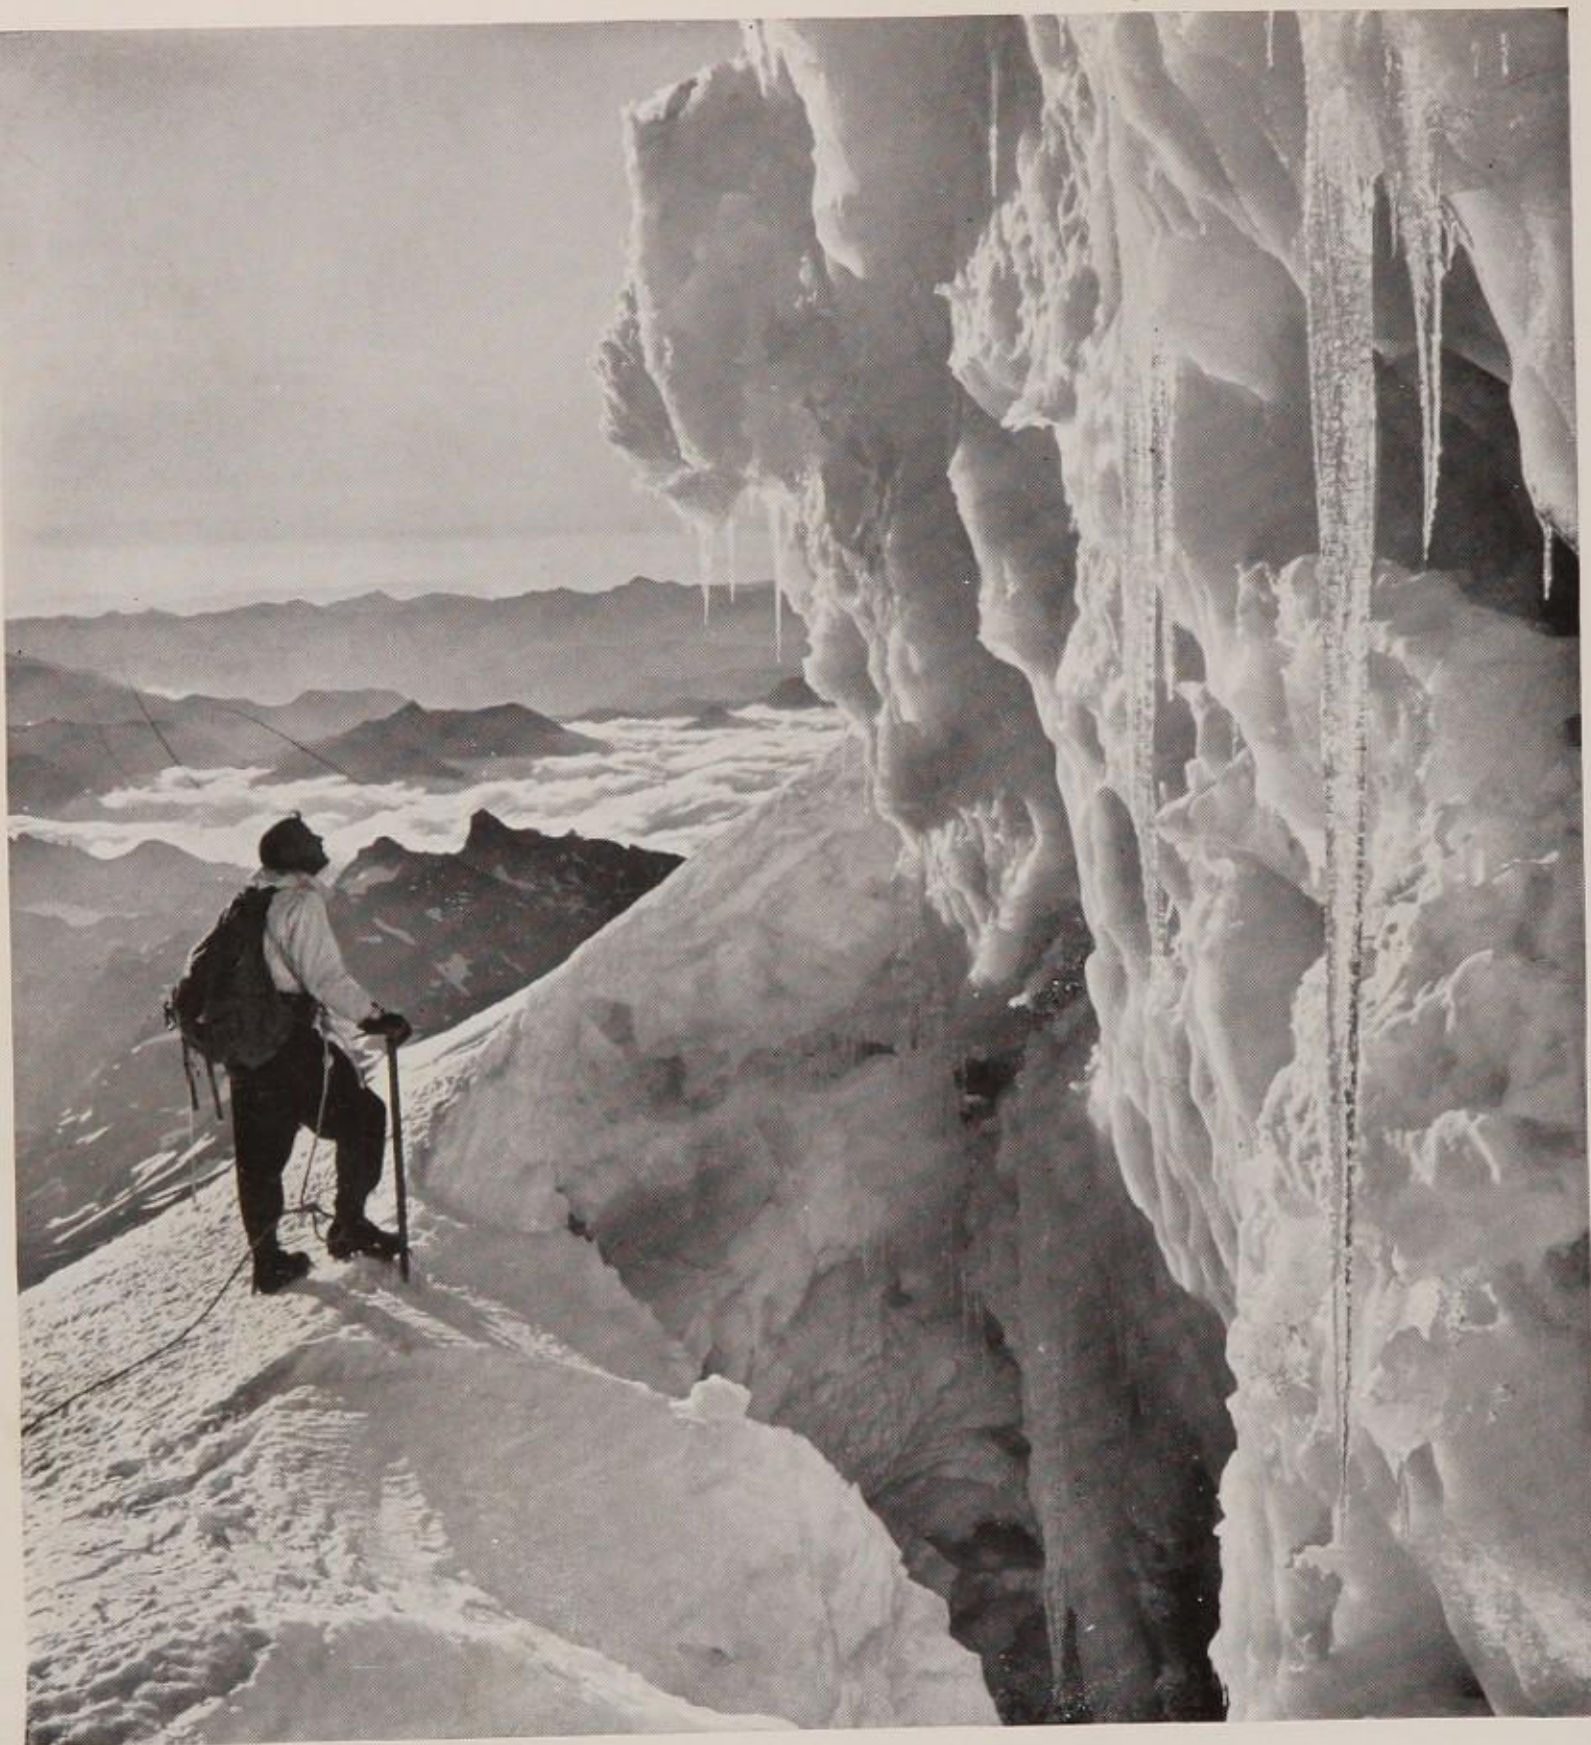

If you want to look up all these famous deeds of your friends, we suggest that you look in the history books of Dave Blood, the great historian.

School Life

They entered these halls all sturdy and bold
 With no inclination to do as they're told;
 But then the sophomores! Downfall comes—
 The nightmare's on—initiation.
 For us all in school, the biggest pests
 Are the ever-recurring tests
 Giving us no time for rests.
 There's no salvation.
 Study halls are no place to work
 Unless you social duties shirk.
 For there we talk and pass on notes
 And see which airplane longest floats

And draw and discuss chairs and cats
 And drive the teachers nearly bats.
 The dances are the largest fear
 Of anyone who enters here.
 "What if you're not asked?" for girls.
 Boys wonder if they want those curls
 And if they ask and are turned down dead
 How can they ever raise their head?
 At last the seniors heal up rifts
 In hopes of graduation gifts
 And enter the big world outside
 To rise to fame or try to hide.

Dear Seldon —

Don't get excited
with your own wiring
or fall off a ladder,
take it easy and don't fall in love with any beautiful actresses, just take it easy and don't let me see you around
Senior High —

Seldon — it will be lonesome next year without your voice every second period! Lots of luck in college.

Seldon -

to the great
wires + firecrackers
in general backstage - I'll never never forget the wiring
in your car - a shocking time that Shurley + I had
